

PASSED BY CONGRESS

Resolutions Ordering Spain to Get Out of Cuba Agreed to.

FREEDOM OF CUBA

People of the Island Declared Independent But Republic Not Recognized.

Washington, April 19.—In the house yesterday, after Mr. Brownell's motion to concur in the senate Cuban resolutions was defeated. Mr. Dingley moved the appointment of a conference committee, which was agreed to without division. The speaker appointed Messrs. Adams, Heatwole and Dinsmore as the conferees.

The senate, when the resolution was returned with the house request for a conference, promptly acceded to the request.

Mr. Davis moved that the conferees be appointed by the chair, but Mr. Allen of Nebraska objected and wanted the conferees named by the senate. The chair finally appointed Messrs. Davis, Foraker and Morgan as the conferees.

They met the house conferees at 5:45 p. m. and tried to reach an agreement on the following resolutions: Being the same as originally passed by the senate, with the exception of the Turpie amendment regarding the independence of the Cuban republic, but the house conferees objected to the words "free and independent."

Resolved, That the people of the United States of America in the island of Cuba are, and of right ought to be, free and independent.

Second—That it is the duty of the United States to demand, and the government of the United States to insist, that the government of Spain at once relinquish its authority and withdraw its land and naval forces from Cuba and Cuban waters.

Third—That the United States hereby disclaims any disposition or intention to exercise sovereignty, jurisdiction or control over said island, and asserts its determination when that is accomplished to leave the island to the people.

IN THE SENATE.

The senate convened at 5 p. m. and on minutes later Mr. Davis presented the report of the conferees. He said that in committee the conferees had agreed to the resolutions, but that after full consideration of the report, the conferees had refused to agree to an amendment, as amended, but the point of contention arose over inserting the words "free and independent" in the first clause, which says the people of Cuba are, and of right ought to be, free and independent.

He said the majority of the conferees had agreed to waive the Turpie amendment, and that the senate was asked to agree to the report, but the senate conferees were not willing to do so. Mr. Davis moved that the senate agree to the report, but the senate conferees were not willing to do so.

FLEEING SPANISH

Transplanted Persons Are Leaving New York But In Small Numbers.

SPANISH SUPPLIES

Outgoing Steamers Carry Lots of Food Supplies For Cuban Ports.

New York, April 19.—When the Spanish line steamship Panama leaves for Havana and Mexican ports tomorrow she will have on board about 150 Spanish residents of this city, whose departure is being hastened by the difficulty of obtaining food supplies for the Spanish army in Cuba. This includes grain, flour, corn, beans, pork, bacon, ham, lard and butter.

Of the 3000 Spaniards in this city only about 150 will leave on the Panama. They are principally those who have no business here, and can leave without any sacrifice. The great majority of the Spaniards here will remain.

Even if hostilities are declared, the Spaniards here will not leave. They are assured of their safety in this city. Those who wish to leave, but have not the means to pay for their passage, will be transported free of charge. All those sailing tomorrow will be landed at Havana, but some may be sent later to Porto Rico.

The consul general ridiculed the idea that they would join the troops in Cuba and Porto Rico. The Ward line steamer also will leave for Havana and Mexican ports tomorrow. She will have on board a quantity of supplies, believed to be for the Spanish army. The British steamship, the Montevideo, which was brought here from Montevideo on April 5.

It was said at the office of the line that the shipment of supplies for the Cuban rebellion had been abandoned, as there was no one in Havana to receive the supplies since the departure of the Consul General.

Consul General. The office concerning the rumors that the government would stop the sending of supplies to Cuba, and that the United States had arranged for the chartering of a Ward line to carry supplies to the reconquerors.

MADRID WATCHING WASHINGTON. Realize That Cuba Is Lost But Will Fight Anyway.

New York, April 19.—A dispatch to the Herald from Madrid says: All eyes are turned toward Washington. It is felt that the Cuban question has entered upon its last stage and that the chance for a peaceful solution is a very slender one.

One of the ministers said: "We are particularly gratified by the fact that Spain is spoken of by several senators. We regard it as an indication of the fact that the United States is not quite unyielding, and we feel that if the council of the ministers will be maintained, even yet."

His reflection may be fully taken to mean that the essential points of difference between the two governments are capable of being settled by the council of ministers. If the council of President McKinley were followed, and all that America would justly demand would be met, the negotiations would not necessarily be broken off by the United States. It is felt that it has been cleared the ground for peace, and that the chance of peace is an indication that the government would spare no efforts to remove the grievances of the United States.

Every one appears to realize that the United States is not unyielding, and that the chance for a peaceful solution is a very slender one. ## SPANISH OFFICERS TALKING ABOUT THEIR RETURN TO SPAIN.

Havana, April 19.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Via Vera Cruz, Mexico.—In the midst of the complicated position, one fact stands out clearly and distinctly, and that is that the Spanish residents here, who have already sent to Mr. Connor or Mr. Meyer their application for enlistment, are to enter the service of the United States volunteers. They feel that they can consult their own preferences as to the organization with which they will affiliate. Many of the banks have in their employ from one to a half dozen members of the National Guard, and several bank presidents said if their employees should join the regiment they were American in manufacture as well as their salaries would continue during their absence in the field.

RUSSIAN WARSHIPS. Two Big Fighting Ships to Be Built in America.

Washington, April 19.—The Russian government has placed orders for two 12,000-ton battleships to be built in the United States, according to information which has reached the navy department. The new vessels are to equal any afloat or designed in the world, and are to be superior to anything in the fighting line heretofore produced in this country. They and all their equipment will be delivered to the Russian government in the summer of 1900.

ated. The present difficulty with Spain has shown to the people of this country that a strong navy is a necessity. Warships can be purchased in an emergency from other nations, although this is not always certain, but it is necessary to have a trained naval reserve to take charge of them.

FACE TO FACE WITH WAR.

The United States government has served notice upon the government of Cuba that the people of the island of Cuba are, and of right ought to be, free and independent, and has demanded that Spain at once relinquish her authority and government in Cuba and withdraw her land forces from Cuba and Cuban waters.

Spain will be given twenty-four or forty-eight hours to reply to this ultimatum. If she refuses to obey the demand, the United States will without further delay employ its navy and army for the expulsion of the Spanish troops from Cuba and drive the Spanish war vessels from Cuban waters. Thus war will be begun.

The American people are thoroughly united in this action. However much they may have differed as to the preliminary steps, they are a unit now in declaring that Spanish sovereignty in the Western hemisphere shall end and that the whole strength of this nation shall be exerted, if necessary, to carry this resolve into effect. From the president to the humblest citizen of the great republic, there is but one sentiment, but one purpose.

It is not a war of conquest upon which we are entering. The American people do not seek the acquisition of Cuban territory. Moved by humanitarian feelings, shocked by the scenes of brutality, butchery and suffering produced by Spain at their very doors and around by the treachery which destroyed an American battleship and wiped out the lives of 266 brave American seamen, the people of the United States have turned from their peaceful pursuits to perform their duty as a great nation and drive the representatives of monarchical tyranny from American soil. Believing that they have right and justice on their side, they confidently raise aloft the starry banner, the emblem of freedom and independence, and give battle to the Spanish butchers.

And may God defend the right and crown our crusade in behalf of suffering and oppressed humanity with glorious victory!

COLLEGE OF FORESTRY.

The New York legislature, at its recent session, passed an act "to promote education in forestry and provide for the establishment of a college of forestry at Cornell university." The law was received the approval of Dr. B. E. Fernow, chief of the United States bureau of forestry, as an evidence of satisfactory progress in the direction of promoting practical forestry, regarding this action of the New York legislature as an experiment that ought to lead to good results, though he does not expect much of it at first. The legislature made an appropriation of $10,000 to establish a school of forestry with three professors and a management of 20,000 acres in the Adirondack forests to serve as a demonstration. The experiment at Cornell university provides, therefore, merely for the training of young men in the science of silviculture. It does not provide for the adoption of scientific management of the state's forests. That this may be the next step is suggested by Dr. Fernow's hope. He refers to what is accomplished by some German countries as follows:

"Without going into any elaborate calculations I may point out that Saxony, with a round 400,000 acres of forest property, spends—not in an experimental way, but a true business proposition—not less than $2.50 per acre, and that with the property well developed, its roads well built and its administration altogether in good running order, she derives from it a net income of $4.50 per acre per year. Bavaria, with over 2,000,000 acres, situated largely as inaccessible as our Adirondack forests, spends $1.50 per acre; Prussia, with over 6,000,000 acres, spends 1.20 per acre on the management of her forest property, and some of the German states spend less. This, I repeat, is not on experiments, which proverbially are expensive, but on a well-established business run at a profit, such as we would want our Adirondack wood finally to bring."

This is meant to combat the policy of setting aside forest areas, merely condemning them to perpetual uselessness. Scientific forestry would make these forests profitable to the state, while at the same time preserving them from destruction. The opening of a village of forestry at Cornell justifies the hope that it may be the means of laying the foundation for a better order of things. It is a subject which should also engage the attention of the next Minnesota legislature. Our forests are rapidly being depleted, and unless steps be soon taken to preserve them from wanton destruction we will some day find ourselves in the same position as several of the older states—destitute of timber of any kind. The application of a system of scientific forestry now would preserve a valuable property to the state.

In order to induce the peasants from the European dominions to settle along the new government railroad in Siberia, Russia offers fares of $1.50 for 1200 miles and $2.60 for 4000 miles. Whether this is an argument for government control or not remains to be seen.

A Chicago paper demands to know why music-crazed women persist in sending thorny roses to plantists, who, it says, hold them in mortal terror. It suggests that sending a '78 record would down the aisle, would be much better appreciated, or even a box of cigars.

What an exhibition of weak backbones was made by the Republican congressmen who caucused several days ago and announced that they would never, never vote for any resolution which did not recognize the Cuban republic.

While the republic of Cuba is deserving of formal recognition by this country, the declaration by congress "that the people of Cuba are, and of right ought to be, free and independent," is the next best thing which could be said.

"Teddy" Roosevelt is no mouth patriot. He has resigned the assistant secretaryship of the navy and wants a place on Gen. Lee's staff when he goes back to Cuba. He wants to be in the thickest of the fight.

Ex-representative John W. Moon, of Michigan, who died recently, was one of the few men who have voluntarily refused a second term when their nomination was assured by acclamation and re-election an absolute certainty.

Senator Davis comes out of the congressional struggle on the Cuban question with dying colors. The resolutions he reported from his committee were those finally agreed to by both houses.

Where was Jim Tawney yesterday—he who shouted so loudly but a few days ago for recognizing the Cuban republic? Where was he? Covering beneath Tom Reed's lash.

Spain will now be presented with the ultimatum of the united people of the United States. The contest over the form of procedure has ended—and all are Americans now.

The president sent a peace message to congress, and that body has replied with a declaration of war. The president's policy was not popular.

At last the United States has reached the point on the Cuban question which should have been reached a year ago.

The congressional resolutions, ordering Spain to get out of Cuba, are virtually a declaration of war.

Both branches of congress made concessions, and the result will be satisfactory to the country.

The Republican members all jump when "the czar" cracks his whip.

It is now up to the president again.

THEY COST TOO MUCH

Suburban Additions Are a Great Drain on the City of Duluth.

INTERESTING FACTS

Ald. Crowley Comments on the Cost of Maintaining Fond du Lac.

Alfred J. H. Crowley has been investigating the expense to the city of some of the suburban annexations and comparing it with the revenue which they yield in taxes. From the facts which he has gathered he concludes that much of the territory added to the city of Duluth is proving a burden to the taxpayers and that the only way in which relief can be obtained is by cutting it off and narrowing the city's limits. In Fond du Lac, for instance, he finds that there was paid out last year more than five times as much as the total amount of taxes levied, and when it is considered that not nearly all of the taxes on Fond du Lac property have been paid the net loss to the city treasury is greatly increased.

Fond du Lac is supplied with twelve electric lights at an annual cost of $120 each, or $2400. Two teachers are employed in the public schools at salaries of $500 each, or in all $1000. Jailor service costs $15 a month or $180 a year. The supervisor of streets is $40 a month, $480 a year. Last year the city made damages at Fond du Lac, which the city must pay, amounted to $1000. When the village of Fond du Lac was taken into the city, which is drawing interest at 7 per cent, amounting to $1000 a year. These items show a grand total of $4400, and Alderman Crowley does not claim that he has included everything. There are incidental school expenses and others of greater or less importance.

The taxes levied by the city against all of the property in the Fond du Lac town is only $2500, and only a small percentage of this has been or will be paid. Alderman Crowley says that every other suburb of the city is a source of revenue to the city, and that it is a great deal of talk, "said he," about reducing salaries of city employees and cutting expenses in all other directions, but when all of this is done it will be but a drop in the bucket when the city is faced with the enormous drain that is being made on the city's resources by the suburbs. The city of Duluth is being drained dry, he said, and he is leaving them to pay for their own schools, streets, lights, fire protection, etc., and to "take care of themselves." It is in this direction that the city should turn its attention in the future, he said.

It is Alderman Crowley's intention to embody his ideas in a resolution and present it to the council.

ANOTHER OPINION

Dillon & Hubbard Intimate That They Consider Tax Judgments as First Liens.

WATER PLANT CASE

Think That Plant Can Be Held For the Taxes Due.

City Attorney Richards today received a letter from Dillon & Hubbard, in which they intimate that state has a lien on the water plant for the personal property taxes superior to the lien of the bondholders. Their language is substantially as follows: "It seems to us that there is ground to contend that the statute by its true construction does create a paramount lien on personal property taxes until they are paid."

Judge Dillon is the author of a standard work on municipal corporations, in which he lays down that doctrine. They say they are still looking up the question and are not ready to deliver an opinion on it yet.

As stated in The Herald yesterday, they have intimated that the contemplated water bond issue is legal. Mr. Richards said that there is no decision on the subject in this state, but in view of the amount involved, directly or indirectly, he is confident that the matter will be fully considered by the court, and it may result in some new law being made. He says that while there is much to be said on both sides, he has always felt confident that the courts would not lay down a rule that would hinder the state in the collection of taxes.

AT WEST DULUTH

Sawmill Workers' Protective Union to Hold Its Second Meeting.

ROOT HOUSE ROBBED

Small Boys Enter It and Steal Small Truck—Willard Y Meeting.

The Sawmill Workers' Protective union, No. 670, will hold the second meeting of the season in I. O. O. F. hall at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow evening. At the first meeting of the union which was held two weeks ago, there was a large attendance and a vice president was elected to represent the organization in the Home Consumers' league.

An officer of the union in speaking of the outlook for the season said to a Herald reporter today:

"We look forward to a prosperous summer for the employees of the sawmills in West Duluth. While there is a good deal of talk about the scarcity of labor it does not apply to mill workers there are plenty of men for all the places that the mills will have to offer. We confidently expect that wages will be advanced right from the start, because lumber values are higher than they were a year ago and the war with Spain ought to and will create a better market for labor. The union is taking an active interest in the movement for we consider that home labor is a home product and anything that will help home labor will help us."

ENTERED A ROOT HOUSE. A root house at the corner of Fifty-seventh avenue and Tedruth street was broken into a few days ago by two boys and a lot of potatoes and raspberry jam stolen to the value of about $10. The police know who the thieves are, but as yet no warrant has been issued for their arrest.

FOUNDMASTERS TO BEGIN. The district will begin work tomorrow. Those who have been permitting their cows to run at large this spring may keep them in or they will fall into the poundmaster's hands. It has been the custom not to begin the enforcement of the pound ordinance until May 1, but the unusually advanced spring has led owners of cows to turn them out, and complaints of damage done by them has led the council to order poundmasters on duty ten days in advance of the usual time.

John Rustigard returned last night from the Pacific coast, where he has been for the past five weeks. He says that it is a fine country. Duluth men are thick and there, especially in Seattle and Tacoma, and familiar faces met him at every turn. The Alaska pilgrims were going through Seattle as the rate of one a week when the first vessel left, and had been increasing every day since. When he passed through Seattle on his way home, Mr. Rustigard says there was not dock room enough in the harbor, and vessels were moored up and down the wharves. He says that the city is a fine one, and that the people are very friendly. He also says that the city is very healthy, and that the people are very well educated.

ANXIOUS TO FIGHT

P. H. Sticken In Full German Regimentals Calls on the Mayor.

PASSED FOR WEYLER

City Hall People Took Him to Be the Notorious Spanish Butcher.

P. H. Sticken, who in the weak piping of peace the country has been experiencing follows the trade of shoe-maker, filled up with several brands of patriotism this morning and concluded that he would like to enter the service of his country. Instead of drilling with his aid, he wanted to drill with a gun. Accordingly, attired in the coat and cap of an officer of the German army, which somebody had loaned him for the occasion, he called on the mayor to "report and offer his services."

When the gorgeous apparition of red and gold and blue burst into the mayor's office like the sun out of a cloud, the mayor, who was sitting at his desk, looked up and then under the desk for the unoffensive Mr. Sticken, with the coat, which was too small for him, drawn tightly in at the waist with the tails sticking out like a ballet dancer's skirt, bore a resemblance to the cartoon of Weyler. When the mayor heard the rich brogue of the fatherland, he was reassured and extended a hearty welcome to Mr. Sticken.

The mayor advised Mr. Sticken that he was a little too old to join the guards, but intimated that there was nothing to prevent his offering his services to the governor. Mr. Sticken seemed to lose sight of the object of his errand at this juncture and began to tell the mayor how he used to make boots for Bismarck already. The mayor diplomatically refused to let him out and the latter finished his story to a crowd in the outer office.

In response to a suggestion from one of his hearers, he modestly allowed that Mr. Bismarck looked like him. He went on to tell how great a work he had done for his country, and how he had been a military leader in the front of the city hall.

It was a very fine specimen of the fish, and was caught by C. H. Davis while trolling in the Mississippi river. The fish was caught by a hook and line, and was brought to the shore by a boat. It was then taken to the city hall, where it was displayed for the people to see. The fish was very fresh, and was a very fine example of the work of the fisherman.

McCord Mill Began Sawing Yesterday—Others About Ready.

The McCord mill at Superior started the season's run yesterday afternoon, and will, barring accident, run continuously the rest of the season, and expects to turn out 40,000,000 before navigation closes. The company reports large sales. All stock on hand and all that will be saved in the next two months has been contracted for. The West Superior Lumber company's mill will start today if logs can be towed to the mill by that time. The high easterly winds of the past two days have seriously hampered towing, but though the winds have died this afternoon, the mill will not get started until tomorrow. This mill will saw 25,000,000 feet this season.

The petition states that the suit is to recover $5000 damages for the loss of the life of Dunsmore, who was hurt while working in the chipmills in Superior last winter.

The new Columbia hall, to be opened by the Duluth camp No. 224, M. W. A., on Wednesday, April 27, is without doubt the finest hall for lodge purposes in the city, containing a lodge room 20 by 40 feet, with two large ante-rooms and a large reception room, with toilet accessories complete. A large kitchen and dining room with corridor lead into a large auditorium fitted with a large and roomy stage, the main floor space being 20 by 20 feet, and is the largest in the city with the exception of the Armory. The M. W. A. are fortunate in having such complete quarters for their rapidly growing camp, which now numbers 150 members.

Class to Be Pushed.

Frank Maginias, son of C. P. Maginias, who is a cadet at West Point, wrote home a few days ago that a seemingly reliable report had been received there that this year's class would be graduated this week and sent on to join the regular army at once. He expects to join the cavalry and also expects that the graduates may be put at work drilling recruits at first.

TWO CENTS

New York, April 29.—The Spanish steamer Panama sailed for Havana this afternoon with about 100 Spaniards, who are expected to join the Spanish army. The cargo consists of provisions and several tons of gunpowder for Havana.

DOCKS ARE NEEDED

Naval Officer Sounds a Note of Alarm Regarding Attack on Havana.

DOCKS ARE REMOTE

And He Recommends the Sending of a Large Land Force to Cuba.

Washington, April 20.—"I have" said a prominent naval officer today, who has given much thought to the subject, "that the plan of operations devised upon the part of the department will not include an attack by our fleet on the coast of Cuba, and the fleet at Cuba as the first stroke of the campaign. If we do this, our ships are sure to be crippled and sent home for repairs. Our docking facilities on the South Atlantic coast are so limited that the vessels would either have to be sent far north to be repaired or else wait their time for docking in the South."

The Spaniards are taking the cue and are displaying much military sagacity in the movement of their ships. They are concentrating them in their home ports, and if our fleet is disabled by attempting to reduce the fortifications at Havana, they will steam over here and inflict irreparable damage on them. It seems to me, the proper thing for us to do would be to attempt to land a large force of men in Cuba, surround the fortifications and starve out the Spaniards, meanwhile keep up a blockade of the harbor and the coast by our fleet of ships.

"I think with our fleet of 20,000 men, supplemented by the insurgents' strength on the island, we would be able to do this. You will remember that during our late war our fleet suffered considerable in the attack on the forts in Charleston harbor, but when the soldiers holding them ascertained that Sherman was coming with an army from the inland they began to evacuate when he was 100 miles away. These matters have been brought to the attention of the strategic board, which is now formulating a plan of campaign."

SPAIN'S TRUMP CARDS.

Madrid Dispatch Says She Has Three to Play.

New York, April 20.—A dispatch to the World from Madrid says: It is said that the principal obstacle in the way of an understanding between the Cuban autonomists and separatist chiefs is that the latter insist upon Spain withdrawing her troops and fleet from Cuba and letting the autonomists admit the insurgents, with their actual ranks and titles in the continental army, on the same terms as the Cuban separatists. The insurgents also demand admission to the local administration and the colonial police force.

The negotiations now renewed by Senors Giner and Diaz had been conducted previously by Senor Giner and Senor Diaz, the autonomist Cuban cabinet, who, like some of the Spanish ministers, were liberal republicans and had been in the secure position of a defeat the American intervention policy. On the other hand the Spanish cabinet, who, like some of the Spanish ministers, were liberal republicans and had been in the secure position of a defeat the American intervention policy.

Spain has three trump cards which she can play. The first is direct negotiations with the separatist chiefs through the autonomist cabinet in the colony, to induce them to accept very liberal concessions. The second is to force the colonies to feel certain that he can induce the queen, Premier Sagasta and his party to assent to such terms.

The second card is European intervention to stop the United States, because, under the same guarantee, the United States might interfere in other colonies of the new world. As Spanish autonomy is a European question, and European powers were not so much at variance on many more important questions, they would accept, through the autonomist cabinet, the terms of the colonies, feeling certain that he can induce the queen, Premier Sagasta and his party to assent to such terms.

HOSPILITIES SUSPENDED.

An Insurgent Rumor Filtered Through Spanish Censorship.

New York, April 20.—A dispatch to the Herald from Havana says: It is reported from Matanzas that the insurgent government of the province, at the head of which is Pedro Betancourt, chief of all the insurgents there, has issued a circular suspending hostilities throughout the territory under his command.

PASSENGER STEAMERS.

At Least Blanco Will Consider Them Neutral.

Havana, April 20.—Although the plant line steamers have suspended their trips between Tampa and Havana, possibly fearing seizure in the event of hostilities, Capt. Gen. Blanco has notified Alexander Galton, the British consul here, who is acting as the United States, that even in the case of war being declared, regular passenger steamers will General Tone of Friendly Feeling for United States—Sympathy for Spain.

New York, April 20.—The impending war has the topic of conversation here, says the London correspondent of the World. To whatever complex motive it may be due, the undoubted fact is that the English feeling has been to the end and against war.

John Burns last night said emphatically: "I am firmly convinced that even at this eleventh hour war could be averted if Great Britain used her influence with the continental powers to bring pressure which might be irresistible upon Spain to grant concessions which would satisfy America."

A WORD OF WARNING.

Regarding the Water You Use Just at This Time of the Year.

In these days there is such a universal interest in the water we drink that anything bearing upon the subject is eagerly read by the public. It is not without cause, for the ordinary drinking water, if the least suspicion attaches to it should be boiled before use. The necessity of using absolutely pure drinking water cannot become too strongly impressed on the public mind, but water in that condition is provided by very few communities. Where such water cannot be obtained, the ordinary drinking water, if the least suspicion attaches to it should be boiled before use. GRAND RAPIDS EXPECTS IT. MAY BE ONLY NOTICE.

Think the Big Pulp Mill Will Be Located There.

C. C. McCarthy, prosecuting attorney of Itasca county, was in the city today and left for his home in Grand Rapids and to the establishment of a paper pulp mill at Grand Rapids was carried over to the special election held yesterday, and Mr. McCarthy believes that there is a reasonable assurance that the plant, which will cost about $200,000, will be located there. He said that a pulp mill would be a benefit to the county, as the Weyerhaeuser company is interested in the enterprise. There is an abundance of raw material suitable for the manufacture of pulp in the vicinity of Grand Rapids, and the promoters of the project are well pleased with the location. Mr. McCarthy said that about 20,000,000 feet of logs had been cut on the Indian reservation in the vicinity of Grand Rapids during the past winter under the dead and down timber act, and that the work had made money identical throughout that section.

In speaking of politics in Itasca county, Mr. McCarthy said that the Republican cause there had no special choice among the several candidates for governor, and that the voters would go to the polls and vote for the candidate of their choice. He said, however, that W. H. Rust was well and favorably known in Itasca county, and that he was looked upon as an important factor in the gubernatorial campaign.

WANTED!
For Company "Q," Third Regiment of Infantry, National Guard, State of Minnesota—Fifty (50) able-bodied single men between the ages of 18 and 45 years. Apply at the Armory between the hours of 2 and 5 p. m. CHAS. C. TEARE, Captain Co. "G."

Nothing Surprising in It.
Henry P. Harris said today that many of his friends had expressed surprise because he had enlisted in the National Guard to afford him an opportunity of taking part in the war with Spain. He does not see anything surprising in his action, because his desire to fight for his country is sincere. He has never belonged to a military company, and has not done military training. He will drill several hours a day with the other recruits, and hopes in a short time to become proficient in the manual of arms. Mr. Harris is at work on a novel, which is within a week of completion, but he will give up his literary work until the war is over.

Summer Training School.
The state superintendent of schools has made arrangements for holding a training school in Duluth during the month of August. Those teachers who have not had the advantage of a normal school course, and those intending to teach, will have an opportunity to fit themselves for their work. Trained instructors will have charge. Tuition free. Those intending to attend will please notify the undersigned promptly, so that he can report to the superintendent as to the number expected.

EXPECTS GOOD YEAR

W. C. Farrington Looks For Larger Lake Passenger Travel This Season.

WAR MAY BENEFIT IT

May Decrease Ocean Travel and Thus Cause Greater Amount on Lakes.

W. C. Farrington, vice president of the Northern Steamship company, arrived in the city this morning and registered at the Spaulding hotel. He spent the day in this looking over the interests of his company here, and he was to leave again for Buffalo on the Omaha this afternoon.

Mr. Farrington was seen at the Spaulding this afternoon by The Herald and asked what the prospects for this season's lake passenger travel are at present.

"They are exceptionally good," he replied. "The outlook is very encouraging indeed, more so than at the beginning of any season so far. I expect a good year, and that the growth that has attended this comparatively new business since its start will follow it again through the coming season. There will be no change now in the arrangements this year. As announced, the boats will start June 14, the North West leaving Duluth and the North Land leaving Buffalo on the same day. After that the semi-weekly trips will follow as they did last year."

"What effect is the war, or prospect of war, going to have on the lake passenger travel?"

"It is a matter of speculation, but so far as I can see it will only result in increasing the lake travel. A great many summer tourists are in the habit of taking ocean voyages, and if the vessels of the two countries are scouring the seas with a chance of encountering an enemy's fleet, it is probable that the lakes for their water trips, and the lake passenger boats will get in this way passengers they might not have received otherwise."

When the North West arrives here, June 14, the day on which she is scheduled to leave for her first trip, she will bring with her the delegates to the Northwestern electrical convention, whom she will pick up at Chicago.

A Curious Catch.

There is displayed in the window of Reinhardt's jewelry store at the corner of Second avenue and Superior street, what is purported to be the carcass of an animal hooked by Alderman Jefferson at Catalina Island, Cal., on his recent visit there. He calls it Mc-Ginty. It is a decidedly curious looking specimen, looks like a combination of a lizard, turtle and a few other extraordinary things. Most of the comments passed upon it by the passers-by seem to question the veracity of the alderman.

When She Handed Gen. Woodford His Pass- ports and Broke Off All Diplomatic Relations With This Country.

WHISTLES TELL THE STORY.
Announcement of War Made Through Them---Meeting Tonight.

The flying squadron is in a state of readiness for instant action, but it is surmised that its present function is to keep an eye on the Spanish movements and make ready to attack at any point on the coast that might be threatened by Spanish raiders.

Word came to the state department today that tended to confirm the newspaper reports that the formidable Spanish naval force at St. Vincent, Cape Verde island, had sailed last night for an unknown destination. Naval experts say that leaving out of consideration

On the question the relative strength of personnel, the Spanish force is at least equal and probably much superior in some respects to Commodore Schley.

It is not believed by any of the naval officers that the Spanish fleet will undertake to cross the Atlantic and attack Commodore Schley on his own base, but it would seem to be equally impracticable for the commodore to take the Spanish squadron across to attack the fleet which is reinforced.

The threat of the Spanish newspapers give us a surprise in the shape of a vital violation does not cause any particular uneasiness at the navy department, although nothing positive is

In reply to an inquiry in connection with the latter resolution, Mr. Adams chairman of the foreign affairs committee, explained the steps taken by the government to convey Americans from the Canary Islands to the United States but he said few Americans took advantage of the offer of the United States. They did not seem to realize their full rights, he said, and he thought that Mr. Adams said our interests were being looked after by the British consuls and that the British government was not to be blamed when an American was arrested and immediately released upon the demand of the British consuls, he recalled.

Mr. Henderson said he was willing that the resolution should be adopted,

NATIONAL GUARD ENLISTMENTS.

Term of Enlistment to Be Reduced to One Year.

Washington, April 21.—The senate committee on military affairs has authorized a favorable report on the volunteer army bill with general amendments. The most important amendment suggested by the senate military committee is to limit the army bill to one reducing the time of enlistment of members of the National Guard, where the enlistment of each state enlist in a term of from three years to one. This change was made because of the belief that the National Guard of many states would go as a body for one year, but that the rest of the army is conscripted an important addition.

“NOTIFICATION OF WAR.”

of Announcement.

Madrid, April 21.—The Spanish government having the text of the ultimatum of the United States from its own sources, did not wait for the United States minister to present the ultimatum, but sent him his passports. It is now understood that there will not be any formal declaration of war, as Spanish action today is considered a virtual declaration of war, and hostilities may begin immediately.

Both nations, however, may make to their own people and all neutral nations what is termed "the notification of war."

COAL IS CONTRABAND.

Guarded Statement of Mr. Balfour In the House of Commons.

London, April 21.—In the house of commons today Michael Davitt, Irish Nationalist, asked whether the government would consider the advisability of notifying the British colonies and British merchants that coal must be considered contraband of war during the continuance of the hostilities between Spain and the United States. Mr. Balfour replied, "Her majesty's government cannot lay down the principle that coal is contraband in the way suggested. There is no doubt that it is very frequently contraband, but not if necessity, or under all circumstances."

THE SPANISH SQUADRON.
Confirmation of Report That It Has

Washington, April 21.—The navy department has received a cablegram from Madrid, saying it is reported there that the Spanish squadron at Cape Verde islands left there last night, destination unknown. It was confirmed by press dispatches, but the navy does not accept it as certainly accurate.

Army officers attach little importance to the trouble which occurred last night at Key West between Sergt. Williams and a colored man, who, in a yellow colored infantry and a policeman, which culminated in a successful demand on the sheriff for the release of Williams, who has been locked up. The matter is regarded as too trivial for any serious consideration. The commanding officer will take charge of Williams and do what seems best in the matter.

A repetition of such or similar clashes between the civilian and military classes, has led to the question of the propriety of the proclamation of martial law in the districts where troops are mobilized, but the military officials are of the idea of the possibility of such action.

The war department continued to receive offers of troops.

SPANISH FLEET COMING.
Crossing the Ocean to Give Uncle Sam Battle

Madrid, April 21.—The newspapers of this city print highly colored accounts of how Gen. Woodford will be handed his passports, but the circumstances in the case were as already stated. To the Associated Press in the United States Government has received the text of the ultimatum and the proper form to be adopted is not to make any further reply, but to wait until the expiration of the time mentioned in the ultimatum before opening hostilities.

In the meantime the Spanish authorities have placed their possessions in a state of defense and their fleet is already on the way to meet that of the United States.

WAR REVENUE MEASURES.

Taxing Railroad Tickets Will Produce a Large Sum.

Washington, April 21.—The Republican members of the ways and means committee expect to complete the war revenue measure and have it ready for submission to the full committee tomorrow or Saturday at the latest. One of the amendments consists in progress in the committee is to increase the tax on mixing tea and coffee. The proposition is to place 10 cents on tea met consideration.

Among the amendments is a proposition to place 50 cents per barrel on petroleum, but it is probable this will not be adopted. There is also a proposition to tax mineral products, but a proposition which meets with more favor is to tax railroad tickets for the selling car tickets 10 cents for each trip of 100 miles or less. It is estimated that between $20,000,000 and $25,000,000 could be raised from this source.

Col. J. J. Vannhorn is in command. There are a hospital corps of sixteen and a band of thirty men. Fifty pack mules and fifteen cars of ambulances and tents. The stock was fed here and dinner was served to the soldiers.

Chicago, July 21.—The United States government may be surprised at the services of the three fishery patrol cutters on the lakes which have been ordered to join the Atlantic squadron. It is intimated that the revenue cutters will be the first of the cutters to start for the Atlantic, and are permitted to pass through the Canadian waters without permission from the Canadian government. The Canadian will apparently break out before the Gresham can get through the canal, if the revenue cutters are not ordered by the Canadian government. If the Canadian government will give permission, as it might be deemed contrary to the revenue laws.

The question is further complicated by the fact that the Gresham, which was launched two years ago, and which through the loss of her engines, cannot be put together again at Montreal, is being repaired at the Dominion government's expense. The United States that she will object to the passage of the Gresham and the two revenue cutters.

ALASKA CAVE DWELLERS.
Strange Dwelling Houses That Are Entered By a Tunnel

A race of cave dwellers lives on a small island on the Alaskan coast. It is King's Island, in Bering sea, due south of Cape Prince of Wales. There is only one village there, and this has a population of 200. Dr. Sheldon Jackson, the United States agent of education in Alaska, says that it is one of the most remarkable settlements in America, yet few people know of its existence.

King's Island is about a mile in length and is a mass of basalt rock which rises perpendicularly out of the sea to a height of 700 to 1,000 feet. At the south side this is cut in by a deep ravine which is filled by a huge permanent snow bank. High up on the north side of the ravine is the village of Duk-Ivak, which is made up of about forty dwellings, partly hollowed out of the cliff and built up outside with a layer of earth. The roofs of these walls are laid large flat stones over these are placed hides and over the hides grass and dirt. The houses are built on a tunnel which runs along underneath, some of the distance often of fifteen feet, and ends under a hole—eighteen inches in diameter—the front door of the room above. This is the front door of the house. The tunnel is so low that it is necessary to stoop, and often to crawl, the entire

In summer these houses generally become too damp to live in. The people are then forced to find another dwelling on top; this is a tent made of animal skins, and is stretched over a wooden frame and guyed to the rocks by ropes to prevent it from blowing away in the wind. These tents allow of a room about ten or fifteen feet square, and are entered by a narrow passage about two feet above the floor. A narrow platform two feet wide runs along the wall of the tent, and is reached by the hall. These platforms are often fifteen or twenty feet above the winter level.

At the other side of the deep ravine at the base of the cliff is a huge cavern where the people store their provisions. This is a large bank of perpetual snow. The cave dwellers use this as a storehouse for their provisions, and store and store their provisions, which freeze solid and keep the year round. The temperature of the air ever rises above 32 degrees.

INDIANS CLAIM IT

Hearing as to Value of Land Adjoining Fond du Lac Reservation.

ASKING LARGE SUM

Want Pay For 66,000 Acres Which They Claim Was Rightfully Theirs.

A hearing was concluded before County Commissioner Caray yesterday afternoon in a case in which the Fond du Lac band of Indians are seeking to recover from the United States of America the value of about 66,000 acres of land adjoining the Fond du Lac reservation on the west. The case is an important one, as the Indians claim that they should be paid for the entire tract, which they assert was wrongfully cut off from their reservation.

When the reservation was surveyed in 1884 it included this land, and afterwards the reservation was changed by another survey so that the tract sued for was cut off and another tract on the south was added. This left the reservation in its present shape. The Indians now claim that they are entitled to the reservation as it originally stood, and they ask that they be paid for the land taken. If their claim is allowed they ask pay for the land at the maximum rate of $2.50 per acre, which would make $165,000.

The hearing before Judge Caray was simply on the value of the land cut off from the reservation. The tract cut off from the west side is all timber country, and the title now stands in the name of lumber companies, including several Duluth companies. The case will be tried before the court of claims at Washington some time during the summer, and the testimony taken yesterday before Judge Caray will be used on the trial. John Brennan, of Superior, is the attorney for the Indians.

The suit does not affect the title to the land. The Indians do not sue for the land itself, but for its value.

WRITES FROM ALASKA.

Ole Godahl, Bound For Copper River, Is Heard From.

Ole Godahl, who left Duluth for the Copper River country in Alaska Feb. 24, has written a letter to B. N. Johnson from Port Valdes, or Copper City, Alaska, dated March 22, in which he says:

"We arrived at Valdes on the 18th inst. and have been here for some time. We were between 500 and 600 passengers and there are about 150 here since last fall, but were not able to move any of the stuff until about three weeks ago. They had to wait until the snow filled up the crevices in the glacier so that they could cross."

"They told me here that we will have to haul our supplies about 100 miles to get above the glacier. The natives here know nothing about Copper River, and that the country is a fish story, but that the chances for striking gold are just as good there as anywhere else. We can't find anything on Copper river, but we will try to get over to the head waters of the river."

"I wish to state a few things about the Pacific Steam and Whaling company. They agree to Seattle and sold a ticket for $70, calling for second class, and told us that we would get the same kind of grub as the first-class passengers, and that all the difference there was between first and second class was that the first-class passengers had a little more room, but what we got was a very dry stowage and our grub was shoveled down as if we were so many hogs. When we arrived here they were going to land us about eight miles from the place where we wanted to go. The captain and the crew were all drunk, and we started across the glacier, but we slipped together and compelled the captain to land at the right place. I wish you would state these facts to The Evening Herald so that the company will get the kind of advertisement that it deserves."

"We shall begin tomorrow morning to move our outfitting gear. There is a distance of about thirty miles on which there is no timber, and we will have to take our own wood with us for use in cooking. Part of the trail is very steep. The snow is about nine feet deep, but is not as cold here as it is in Duluth."

RECRUITS STILL JOINING.

Twenty-Two Men Added to Militia Companies Yesterday.

Twenty-two men were enlisted in the National Guard yesterday. Company A obtained eighteen recruits and Company C four. A number of applications for enlistment in Company C were received, but not acted on. Company A now needs less than a dozen men to place it on a war footing. The enlistments yesterday are as follows:

Company A: Victor Tito, Charles Timmon, C. E. Blake, Arthur Bargaruff, Peter L. Staveth, Henry Murphy, Victor Anderson, Martin Burns, John F. Huddy, A. E. Gaskill, Ernest Landquist, J. C. Powers, C. R. Torgard, A. W. Hutton, C. T. Crane, Andrew Heen and Fred Jasmer.

Company C: John Hietzelberger, James Hooley, Albert Farrington and George Van Norman.

Major Bidwell approves of the idea of subjecting members of the guard and applicants for enlistment to a physical examination. However the examination would not be as strict as that for admission to the regular army. Although it should be thorough, the Duluth men have stood the work camp better than those of the other companies, he says.

ASSESSMENT OF LOGS.

Interesting New Ruling in Regard to Their Listing.

St. Paul, April 21.—County Auditor Hadden of Duluth, was at the capitol yesterday. Together with the auditor of Hennepin county he held a conference with Deputy State Auditor Iverson, which resulted in an agreement to govern the assessment of logs hereafter. The conference was brought about by a case in Hennepin county, where a lumberman had made a return of logs out in St. Louis county as part of his personal property. The logs were also assessed in St. Louis county, and the dispute was to abate one of these assessments.

It was decided that hereafter logs will be assessed at the home of the owner, or where they are manufactured, but the owner must submit a list of the logs, showing the county in which they were cut. Otherwise the auditor of the county in which they were cut may return them to the state auditor for taxation.

Heretofore it is said to have been the practice of lumbermen, or many of them, to escape taxation by refusing to return logs, claiming in each county that they had been returned in some other. The new system will ensure that they are sent a copy of the record showing whether or not they have been previously returned. The new system is especially interesting in this new ruling.

EVANGELIST OSTROM'S TALK.

Some of the Thoughts Given Out Yesterday Afternoon.

There was a large attendance at Evangelist Ostrom's meeting yesterday afternoon. Some of the thoughts to which he gave expression are the following:

"I do not want a heroic religion. You drive them away from church with goody goody talk. Jesus enlisted followers as slaves. He never told men that they would find nobler society or greater comforts in following him. He told them that if they followed him, they would find the truth. If it kills you, Truth never dies."

"The worst enemy you will meet is self. I do not talk about enduring humanity. The wonder is how humanity endures me."

"Three times the disciples of Christ debated who among them should be greatest. He taught them that the greatest was the one who was last, and that the one who was first should be the servant of the others."

"A man may want to go to heaven but he must first be crucified for the world. But a Christian is a self-denier."

"Conquer self and you conquer all. Here the secret of victory is to be conquered."

"Said the vocal teacher when asked by the father of a young lady what her voice would make: 'I could tell you but I could break it. I could break it by making you pray for more faith when it would be better to pray for the death of self. The centurion had great faith when he lost light of self.'"

"The character of man in sin, if it could be photographed, would probably be funnel-shaped, but of a genuine Christian it would be like the sun."

"Mr. Hillys sang as usual. Afterward Rev. Mr. Ostrom spoke to boys and girls. Beginning this afternoon, the evangelist will deliver a series of addresses on 'The Holy Spirit,' as follows:

Thursday—"The Era of Greatness."

Friday—"The Power of the Holy Spirit."

Saturday—"The Secrets of the Christ Life."

Sunday—"Reception of the Holy Spirit."

Wednesday—"Some Special Writings Accomplished by the Holy Spirit."

The evening services will be continued at 7:30 o'clock.

TWO ARE CAPTURED

Schneider and Fox, Wanted For Miller Brewing Company Robbery, Arrested.

CAUGHT IN CHICAGO

Another Man, Known as "Andy, the Terrible Swede," at Large.

Two of the men who robbed the Fred Miller Brewing company's office in this city about ten days ago have been caught in Chicago. They are Otto Schneider and George Fox. Another man, known as "Andy, the Terrible Swede," is still at large. All were concerned in the robbery and have been missing since its occurrence.

Last Sunday young Bert Bellinger went to B. H. Riebel, the manager of the Fred Miller Brewing company at Duluth and told him that he knew Schneider and was positive that he and his companions were in Chicago. How he obtained this information he did not disclose, but told Mr. Riebel that they left here the night of the robbery over the Omaha train for St. Paul, going there to govern the assessment of logs to Chicago. In Chicago he said they had been hanging around "Hinky Dinks" and "Hinky Dink" is a noted character in Chicago, and his place is well known even beyond Chicago limits. Bellinger offered to go to Chicago and find the men and cause their arrest if Mr. Riebel would pay him the reward offered.

After some consideration Mr. Riebel decided to do this and Bellinger left. Yesterday a telegram was received from him saying that Schneider and Fox had been arrested and were in custody there.

Shortly after another telegram was received, signed Sheriff Sargent, saying that the two men were in custody at the Harrison street jail in Chicago. It seems that Sheriff Sargent's men had been following the matter up and Deputy Bates had learned that the men were in Chicago and slipped down there. Riebel knowing nothing of his going, he arrived there shortly after Bellinger and although the latter probably was responsible for the arrest, there is considerable credit due the sheriff and Deputy Bates.

Sheriff Sargent left last night for Chicago and the men had probably been brought back to Duluth tomorrow. The Terrible Swede, however, and man is called, is supposed to have left the train at Superior and he has not been captured. The brewing company people are afraid that he may have the most of the valuables that were taken. The amount of drafts, etc., taken was about $1500.

DROWNED IN THE BAY

Jerry Cashin Jumped From a Row Boat Last Night.

Jerry Cashin, a land cruiser, fell or jumped overboard from a row boat in St. Louis bay about 8 o'clock last evening. The affair occurred near Mitchell & McClure's log banking grounds.

William Nugent, of 365 Wasco street, and Daniel O'Day, who is employed at Mitchell & McClure's dock at West Superior, were in the boat at the time. They say that Cashin jumped overboard. They at first thought he had done it to frighten them, but when they saw him in the water they tried to reach him with the oars. The water is so deep at that point, that they were unable to locate the body and they rowed ashore and reported the matter at the West Duluth police station. The police took no steps to recover the body, however, as the drowning occurred on the Wisconsin side in the jurisdiction of the Superior authorities.

Cashin was between 35 and 40 years of age. He has been in Duluth but a few days, it is said, and his home was said to be in Emmet, Mich. He is said to have a brother working for one of the lumber companies here.

E. J. Filiault recovered the body about 10:30 o'clock this morning, and it was taken to his undertaking rooms. Corner Ekland said this afternoon that an inquest would not be necessary.

LARGE CROWD AT LAUNCHING.

Great Many People See the Maids Take Her Plunge.

Launchings seem never to lose their interest to the people, and when the new large Maids, of the Minnesota Steamship company, slipped gracefully down the ways and into the water yesterday afternoon at Superior 2000 people stood on the pier and on boats and on any old place that would afford a good view, and witnessed the operation. As usual many of them received a good wetting from the sea that the boat displaced and sent booming over the pier as she struck the water. The day was perfect, and the shipyard was handsomely decorated with flags and bunting. The over-400 yards were given a half holiday, and the street cars of both Duluth and Superior were crowded with people to attend the launching.

The Maids is the forty-second large lake vessel that has been built by the Duluth shipyard. She is 100 feet long, 20 feet wide, and will be the largest boat ever built by the large company.

AMUSEMENTS.

"SHALL WE FORGIVE HER?" "Shall We Forgive Her?" will be presented at the Lyceum Saturday evening. It is a new play recently produced in England and more recently brought out at the Fourteenth Street theater, New York, where it was warmly received. The presence of Marie Wainwright in the cast has also drawn attention to the piece. Miss Wainwright has forsworn Shakespeare and is now playing the time being and has returned to melodrama. She is an actress of wide experience and intelligence and she will be a very potent attraction with "Shall We Forgive Her?"

MARKS BROS. COMPANY. Marks Bros. company played to a packed house at Turner hall last evening. The applause was very heavy. Tonight "The Little Duchess" will be presented and the intention of opening "Uncle Tom's Cabin" will be given. Saturday evening there will be an amateur concert.

Henry Latchford's Lecture.

The lecture by Henry Latchford, on "The High School of Tomorrow," is said to be a very interesting talk on the lecturer's personal experience. He is a member of the great literary lights of England and America. Of the lecture the St. Paul Post says: "The lecture was one of the most picturesque and generally satisfying of the lectures delivered during the season."

No Chamber Meeting.

The chamber of commerce did not meet yesterday afternoon owing to a lack of a quorum of members to be present. The subject for discussion—the abrogation of the treaty prohibiting shipbuilding on the lakes—will therefore go over until the next meeting. The chamber has been asked to send delegates to the mining congress which will be held in Salt Lake City next summer. The chamber was represented last year.

Mayor Wants to Keep Them.

The mayor does not want to let go of Fond du Lac, New Duluth or any of the other suburbs. He says that in a few years, when the St. Louis water power is developed, Fond du Lac and New Duluth especially will be of great value to the city. Meanwhile, expenses could be reduced, especially in the matter of liquor.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional remedy on the market. It is a blood-purifier, it acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circular and testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold everywhere.

AT WEST DULUTH

Thirty Wheelmen Join the Good Roads Club--Meeting to Be Held.

REPUBLICANS MEET

Eighth Ward Club Organized Last Evening—Health Officer at Work.

About thirty West Duluth wheelmen have joined the Good Roads club, and their initiation fee and received their membership cards, and the committee is still at work soliciting. Vice President Barnes said today that he would soon call a meeting of the West Duluth members at which W. H. Smith, president of the board of public works and chairman of the Good Roads club will be invited to be present. The conditions of the roads in this end of the city most used by bicycle riders will be discussed and a decision reached as to the improvements that are most needed. The requirements of West Duluth that at the present time are deemed practical will be formulated for presentation through Mr. Smith to the roads committee, which will in turn submit them to the board of directors. Some of the work will undoubtedly be done with funds taken from the club's treasury, while others the authorities will be asked to do. The local wheelmen have shown great interest in the movement and it is hoped that the membership from West Duluth will be as large in proportion to the population as that of any other section of the city.

REPUBLICANS ORGANIZE.

A Republican meeting which was well attended was held last night in I. O. G. T. hall and the Eighth Ward Republican club was organized by the election of the following officers: George F. Davis, president; George L. Culligan, vice president; Thomas O'Leary, treasurer; L. H. Wellington, secretary. The club was organized to support the policy of President McKinley in handling the questions at issue with Spain and to uphold the principles of Republicanism. Expressions were made by several leading Republicans concerning the political situation, and a patriotic sentiment evoked applause. The club will have a good membership and it is proposed to use the organization as an aid to the Republican campaign committee as well as to assist in the circulation of campaign literature.

THE ANNUAL CLEANING UP.

Freeman Keene, health officer for the West Duluth district, is now busily engaged in cleaning up the district. He is at the head of the street cleaning work of the department. Property owners are being served with notices to clean their premises and remove refuse. He is also at work removing the accumulated filth from the alleys to the dump near the water works. Mr. Keene says that there are no contagious diseases in his district, with the exception of a few cases of scarlet fever.

The street commissioner is employing his force in cleaning the streets.

WILL OPEN A STORE.

MME. YALE'S HAIR TONIC.

Ladies and Gentlemen!—It affords me great pleasure to call the attention of the public to the Excelsior Hair Tonic, which is the first and only remedy known to chemistry which positively turns gray hair back to its original color without dye. It has gone on record that Mme. M. Yale—wonderful woman chemist—has made the most valuable of all chemical discoveries. Mme. Yale personally indorses its action and gives the public her solemn guarantee that it has been tested in every conceivable way, and has proved itself to be the only Hair Specific. It stops hair falling immediately and creates a luxuriant growth. Contains no injurious ingredient. Physicians and chemists invited to analyze it. It is not sticky or greasy; on the contrary it makes the hair soft, youthful, fluffy, and keeps it in curl. For gentlemen and ladies with hair a little gray, streaked gray, entirely gray, and with BALD HEADS, it is specially recommended.

Price $1.00, our special price 85c

Some Dissatisfaction Over Bill Requiring Militiamen to Enlist as Volunteers.

REVIVES OLD FIGHT.

Regular Army and Militia Have Never Been on Best of Terms.

Nineteen applicants for enlistment in Company C have been received and they will be acted on Friday night. All the companies are filling up rapidly. There are some expressions of dissatisfaction with the house bill providing that the National Guard be taken into the service as a body, but that the members must enlist as volunteers. The entire of the guard is thus lost when the members enter the national service, and many who are qualified to express an opinion say that the guard's value as a nucleus for an army on a war footing is thus greatly diminished if not wholly lost. It is freely charged that the bill is the creature of West Point influence and that of politicians who want places to fill. The consideration setting the West Point influence at work is it is said, that the chances for West Pointers to slip into captaincies and higher grades instead of second and "additional" second lieutenancies, may be increased. Were the guard to enter as an organization with its full complement of captains, majors, colonels, etc., the place hunters would not have as many chances. An energetic committee has been at work at the Spaulding in the interest of the National Guard against the bill, but it is an administration measure, and not the hope of success has been entertained.

It is a well-known fact that the officers of the regular army are prejudiced against militia. They claim they have never made as good soldiers as the militia. The reason for this is because they want to fight, and that therefore they make better soldiers. The militia, on the other hand, are always delighted, however, to receive former militiamen as volunteers, because they have been trained. To the average militia officer, too, the army officers object. They claim that too many militia officers get their positions through political and personal influence and without knowing anything about the army or its tactics. To this the militiamen reply, however, that no man can become a militia officer unless he passes a rigid examination. They claim that militia regulations are much more severe than those that were at the time of the civil war, and are adhered to much more strictly.

WANTS A PLACE AS PRIVATE.

Ald. Jefferson Says He Is Not After an Officer's Commission.

Alderman E. T. Jefferson said today that from the best available statistics there were about 157,000 men who had rendered their services to the government in the capacity of commissioned officers in the volunteer army. He said that his experience in the army had been that it required privates to fight battles and he proposed to make application to Governor Clough for a place in the army. While he has been somewhat disabled by wounds received in the service, he is willing to accept of a like position even if he might be left in the rear in case of retreat. Alderman Jefferson's statement was made in the city hall in answer to a question in the city hall as to his intention to apply for an officer's commission.

MARTIN GRONSETH DEAD.

Heart Trouble Terminates the Life of an Old Resident.

Martin Gronseth died last evening at his home, 1123 East Sixth street, aged 69 years. Heart trouble was the cause of death and he had been sick some time. Residents also of Duluth, they are Anton Gronseth of Gronseth & Olsen and Mrs. Olsen, wife of John Olsen of the same firm; Jennie Gronseth, Martha Gronseth, and Hans and Oscar Gronseth. At his bedside was also Mrs. Ben Swanson, of Wesley, Iowa, his oldest daughter. The funeral service will be held at the Norwegian church Sunday at 2:30 p. m.

A Coming Dancing Party.

Next Wednesday evening a large party will be given at the Spaulding hall by Flaaten's orchestra. A very successful affair is looked for, not only on account of the popularity of the organization that is giving it, but because of the present dearth of social happenings. The committee in charge of the arrangements consists of D. R. McLennan, W. C. Sargent and C. F. Macdonald.

Mr. Gary's resignation was accepted by the president. He is now in the hospital at the White House, and his condition is said to be improving.

Wife of a Prominent Methodist Minister So Refers to That Valuable Specific for Nervous Diseases, Dr. Miles' Nervine.

It Cured Her.

More than half the sickness and disease in this world comes from weak nerves, loss of vitality and nerve force. When the nervous power is depressed, the food is imperfectly digested, assimilation is hindered, the albumen and fibrin of the blood—the nutritious principles of the blood—become deficient in their relative proportions to the other parts of the blood, and the health suffers. It cannot be repeated too often that the nerves control every part of the body, and anything which irritates the nerve center weakens the life-giving and life-sustaining power of the whole system. Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is the exact remedy for that large class of feeble, thin blooded, nervous and often hysterical persons whose greatest need is a thorough rest and outlet for the tired brain and the overwrought nerves. Among the many thousands of such sufferers from a tortured nervous system was Mrs. A. V. Babbs, wife of Rev. A. V. Babbs, pastor M. E. church, Plainville, Ill.

Mrs. Babbs says: "For a long time I was a great sufferer from nervous attacks of the most severe nature. My rest was greatly broken by sleepless nights and my health was very poor. But lately I have been taking Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine with great benefit. Oh! what a blessing it is to me, in quieting my nervous attacks, in giving me new life and new hope for a permanent change for the better in my health."

If you are "played out," cannot sleep, cannot digest your food, cannot work or attend to your daily duties and have lost courage, Dr. Miles' Nervine will show itself to be the best friend you ever had. It will enable you to forget your troubles and will restore you to health again.

You run no risk in giving Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine a trial. They have been before the public now for over twelve years, and their constantly increasing sale is the very best evidence that they possess superior healing qualities. These in need of medical advice can have the services of the best physicians, absolutely free of charge. Valuable book on diseases of heart and nerves sent free on request. HAVANA WATER SUPPLY. American Firm Has the Contract—Provisions Are Plentiful.

Havana, April 21.—The weather is fine and warm this morning and quiet prevails here. The government has accepted the proposal of Nicholas Tamin & Co., an American concern, to arrange for a supply of water from Paita and Colon. The contract will be signed immediately. It is looked upon as a good arrangement from both standpoints.

The Spanish steamer Vivana arrived here yesterday and the English steamer Luciani arrived here today. The Diaro de La Marina in its editorial morning, praises the Spaniards of Mexico, who are said to have raised by subscription about $100,000 for Cuban relief. The same paper says: "There is no fear of a scarcity of provisions in case of war, owing to measures adopted by the government and to the patriotic attitude of the Spaniards of Mexico."

The Union Constitutional refers in high terms to the stand taken by Spain, saying: "The Spaniards are not, even now, even one hour, to return the Americans' insulting challenge." The Union Constitutional says of the American ultimatum: "The disappointment of the 70,000,000 of people will be great when they come out of the night, with the same people whose possessions the sun has never set."

A WONDERFUL BOAT. The Holland Submarine Boat Makes a Satisfactory Exhibit to Naval Experts.

Perth Amboy, N. J., April 21.—The Holland test has been taking place in the presence of the naval trial board announced success. The Holland dove out of sight and four times she came to the surface during an hour, only to disappear again at once.

The naval experts who watched the trial were Capt. S. Perry and Commander Swift of the Brooklyn navy yard and Naval Commander Rock of Baltimore. They were on the tug George B. Roe.

A tug towed the Holland to Princess bay, and when about three miles east of East Point buoy the tug cast off, and the Holland began to move under her own power. The naval officers then gave their instructions. The Holland was instructed to dive and remain under water for ten minutes, rise, run for ten minutes, and then repeat the diving and running on the return trip. This she did satisfactorily.

When she reached the tug again the Holland showed her hull and her torpedo tubes. Six hundred pounds pressure of compressed air was used to force the torpedoes. The Holland dove and struck the water 300 yards from the Holland. The Whitehead tube was tried and the dummy was shot out. Chief Engineer Marry said he was perfectly satisfied with the performance of the boat.

DON CARLOS A PATRIOT. Says He Will Prove It When First Gun Is Fired.

Brussels, April 21.—Don Carlos, the Spanish pretender, in an interview here, said: "I am convinced that the Cuban insurgents will make common cause with Spain, for fear of being absorbed by America."

Without expressing absolute confidence in the triumph of the Spanish army, Don Carlos expressed the opinion that the patriotism of Spain will work miracles. He added: "So far as I am concerned, when the first gun is fired I will give proof that I am a patriot before being a pretender."

A Narrow Escape. Thankful words were written by Mrs. Ada E. Hart, of Groton, S. D. "Was taken with a bad cold which I could not get rid of. I set in and finally terminated in Consumption. Four doctors gave up. I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Savior, determined that I would meet my friends on earth. I would meet my friends on earth. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Coughs and colds. It has cured me, and thank God I am saved and now well and healthy woman." # HAVANA BLOC!

FIRST GUN FIRED! WOODFORD IN FRANCE

Shortly Before Six O'Clock This Morning, the North Atlantic Squadron Left Key West For Havana Harbor.

SIGNALS GIVEN AT NIGHT

Colored Lights Flashed and Ticked a Message Fraught With the Gravest Importance and Creative of History.

THE FIRST CAPTURE.

Spanish Ship Surrendered to the Cruiser Nashville Without Any Resistance.

Key West, April 22.—At 2:35 a. m. the warships lying in the inner harbor were apparently drawing nearer the flagship. Two were seen moving out. They were thought to be the monitor Amphitrite and the gunboat Hibernia. The signaling was continuous and the searchlights of the Iowa and the New York were industriously sweeping the waters of the outer harbor. Their great searchlights were barely visible, while the hulls lay like indistinct shadows in the distant waters. The inner harbor, however, offered a striking picture, crowded as it was with monitors, cruisers, gunboats and little but sinister torpedo boats, flitting noiselessly in and out of the maze of greater vessels lying at anchor.

When twilight fell last night this scene was unchanged. The signaling between the distant trio of ships and those closer in shore had been the custom ever since the assembling of the fleet here, but last night vari-colored lights shimmered their messages across the skies almost without cessation. The first streaks of the morning light were crossing from the east and two bells just sounded from the ships when they, and to unfamiliar eyes, an almost imperceptible line of the superior of the sky above where lay the flagship. A moment or two after and the signal staff of the Cincinnati, lying off Fort Taylor in the inner harbor, flashed into colored light, acknowledging the call. The Purities saw that the movement of the incandescent conversation and the ships were kaleidoscopic as ship after ship answered with lights which ticked a message fraught with the gravest importance and creative of history. What words, of course, no one ashore knew, but those who watched with anxious eyes from sea and docks needed no interpreter to tell that it meant hostile action.

The message was not long in delivery, but sunrise had fully come as the last letter tickered and went out. Then the witnesses saw that the movement had actually begun under cover of the night. The big ships could still be discerned in the distance, but the others had moved towards them, the flagship drawing other ships of the squadron to her. The Wilmington and Amphitrite had slipped from their anchorage and advanced within hailing distance of the flagship. It was just 6:42 when the New York, without unnecessary display, moved pompously and slowly towards the outer waters of the gulf. The red light flashed the signal to open eyes on the following fleet and told them to get in motion at last. To those on shore it looked as if the New York was somewhat in advance of the line, with the Iowa and Indiana following on either side, but separated from them by a good stretch of water. As the line advanced towards the horizon, the ships spread out until, perhaps, there was a distance of three miles between the tips of the crescent.

The ships of the inner harbor had sloped out one by one and stood at various stations, until the entire formation was ready to move. From the highest point in Key West the line was semi-circular. The ships that followed the three leaders were the cruisers Cincinnati, Detroit, Nashville, the gunboats Wilmington, Cassin, Machias, Newport, the monitors Amphitrite, the Mangrove, Mayflower and torpedo boat Foote.

Why the powerful monitors Puritan and Terror did not accompany the fleet could not officially be learned, but it is said they may follow shortly. The Monitorhead is taking on water, and will doubtless join the squadron in a day or two. The fleet went to Tampa for ammunition for the fleet, and will carry it to Havana, if that is the destination. That the fleet has moved on Cuba is certain, as at present it is moving well out to sea, as though they may await further orders. If those so far held here can quickly carry such dispatches, it was a cry of wolf story again. The United States cruiser Detroit and the cable repair boat Mangrove also were among the vessels that sailed for Havana. The Associated Press boat business is with the fleet.

Late Minister to Spain Reaches Neutral Soil After Exciting Trip.

MORENO IN DANGER

Spanish Police Attempt to Capture a Member of Woodford's Party.

Hendaye, Spanish frontier, April 22.—Gen. Stewart L. Woodford, the United States minister to Spain, accompanied by his staff and others, reached the frontier at 8 o'clock this morning in safety, after some exciting experiences. The Spanish police attempted to capture a member of the legation, and at Valladolid, the train was attacked. Mr. Moreno was the member of the United States legation singled out by the Spanish police for capture, on the ground that he is a subject of Spain, but the attempt was frustrated owing to the presence of the minister. At Valladolid the United States minister's train was attacked and looted. Woodford, however, escaped, and the civil guards were compelled to protect his carriage with drawn swords. Gen. Woodford, however, slept through the disturbance. The Moreno incident threatened to be serious. The Spanish police made a determined effort to capture Mr. Moreno, but Gen. Woodford stood in the doorway of the train, where the police of the United States were stationed, and the attempt was frustrated. At Segovia the students of the military academy, gathered on the platform, cheering for Spain and there were several shots fired. The general finally reached Madrid, and Gen. Woodford personally seemed unconcerned of any danger. The secretary of the Associated Press, who accompanied him, requested the Associated Press to express their thanks to all the representatives of the press.

WOODFORD'S "GOOD BYE." Further Incidents of His Exciting Trip to Safety.

Bayonne, France, April 22, 1:30 p. m.—The farewell of the United States minister, Gen. Woodford, was in keeping with the dignity displayed throughout the crisis. When asked if he had anything to say, he simply raised his hat and said "Good-bye." The Segovia incident was comparatively unimportant. The students of the military school in full uniform, packed the depot. They were silent until the train started, when there was an enthusiastic outburst of cheering for Spain and Cuba. The Valladolid affair, however, threatened to be quite serious. Thousands of excited people attempted to invade the railroad station, and the twenty civil guards who accompanied the train, were compelled to form up in front of Gen. Woodford's carriage, with drawn swords, while other civil guards of the local force issued from the depot to protect the train. The guards did everything possible to keep back the mob, whose yells and shrieks resounded on all sides. Stones were thrown and windows broken. A newspaper man was injured in the face by broken glass. Sir Charles Hall, the recorder of the city of London, had a narrow escape from being hit by stones, and Montague Hughes-Gravenor, G. C., had a similar experience. Gen. Woodford knew nothing about the disturbances until he reached Tudela. There an officer of the civil guard, accompanied by a private boarded the train and demanded that Joaquin Moreno disembark from the train. James, the general's valet thereupon awakened the general, who hurriedly dressed while matters were being explained to him. The general then formally protested, through the medium of the correspondent of the Associated Press, against the attempted interference with his suite, declaring that Mr. Moreno was his private secretary and a British subject. The Spaniards claimed that he was a Spanish subject, but the general refused to give him up to the police, and placed himself in the doorway of the compartment in which Mr. Moreno was travelling, declaring he would only surrender the latter if forced to do so. The minister then asked the correspondent of the Associated Press to explain to the Spaniards that he had placed Mr. Moreno under the protection of the British flag, and that if they took him, it would only be by using personal violence to the United States minister, who proposed to protect Mr. Moreno until the frontier was crossed. If any artist had been present at that moment, he could have secured material for a striking picture of the gallant general blocking the doorway against the Don's and the smiling encouragement of his friends, standing quite handsomely in front, ready to protect him if an attempt had been made to touch the minister.

Gen. Woodford whispered to the correspondent of the Associated Press, who afterwards drew the Spaniards into a corner, and explained to them the serious nature of their action, pointing out that it might lead to complications with Great Britain, this argument prevailed and the troublesome visitors withdrew.

FLYING SQUADRON

Ultimate Destination is Porto Rico Where It Will Blockade San Juan.

FORMIDABLE FLEET

Battleships, Armored Cruisers and Fastest Naval Cruisers in the World.

New York, April 22.—A Washington dispatch to the Sun says: Just what will be done with the flying squadron, under command of Commander Schley, is not clear. Its ultimate destination is San Juan, Porto Rico, where it will maintain a blockade of that important Spanish station. The main reason for attaching to this squadron the slow, but formidable battleships Massachusetts and Texas was to give Commander Schley sufficient strength to combat a Spanish squadron considerably larger than the flying squadron, allowing Commander Schley to join Capt. Sampson if necessary, or to proceed to New York and other Northern ports if they were menaced by a Spanish fleet.

The formation of a patrol squadron, to consist of the cruisers San Francisco and the auxiliary cruisers Yulise, Dixie, Prairie and Yosemite, under command of Commander Howell, does away largely with the necessity of keeping the flying squadron at Hampton Roads. It will be more than two weeks before the auxiliary cruisers can be put into service, and therefore may determine that it is not well for Commander Schley to leave his present station at once. The indications are, however, that the flying squadron will not delay its departure from Hampton Roads until the patrol squadron proceeds to sea. These fine armored cruisers of the Spanish navy, the Vizcaya and the Oquendo, have arrived at the Cape Verde islands, the knowledge where they are largely believed to have been the cause of the necessity of retaining the flying squadron at its present station.

The military and naval situation of the two hostile nations on the eve of war is peculiar. Spain has no big vessels to guard her interests in the West Indies or the Philippines. As far as the navy department knows the only Spanish vessels in the West Indies are the armored cruisers Albatros and the auxiliary cruisers Albatros, Albatros and Albatros. They never lose their good qualities, but a light medicine would, but are always fresh and ready for use.

At Porto Rico there may be a gunboat or two, but nothing more. Most of the armored craft of the Spanish navy are at Cadix, Spain, and St. Vincent, Cape Verde islands. The Spanish torpedo boats are also at these places. At Cadix are the battleships Pelayo and Victoria, the protected cruiser Alfonso XIII, the Navarra and the Castilla, the destroyers Destructor, Conquistador and Pluton, and seven torpedo boats. At Cape Verde, islands are the armored cruisers Maria Teresa, Cristobal Colon, Vizcaya and Oquendo, three torpedo boats, destroyers, three torpedo boats and the city of Cadix, an auxiliary cruiser used as a supply ship for the torpedo boats.

In the Philippines are some gunboats not capable of withstanding Admiral Dewey's squadron of cruisers and torpedo boats gathered at Hong Kong. The Spanish torpedo boat destroyer Tornado is in the island in Manila, presumably waiting an opportunity of making a night assault on the battleship Oregon and the gunboat Marketa, now proceeding from the Pacific around to Key West. Two Spanish torpedo boat destroyers are being retained in the British Isles.

Spain's strange policy has puzzled the naval experts of the United States. Some seem to think that Spain does not intend to make any effort to regain her West Indian possessions. It may be necessary to being this war to a speedy close is a fact of American naval vessels to engage the fleet concentrated at St. Vincent, which will probably be augmented by the vessels assembled at Cadix. But for the present the operations of the American naval forces will be confined to Cuba and Porto Rico.

The United States will be prepared to carry out the blockade campaign. The formidable North Atlantic squadron, under Capt. W. T. Sampson, has sailed for Havana and has begun the blockade of that harbor. Capt. Sampson has in his charge the most powerful squadron of naval vessels ever gathered by this country. It will consist in a few days of armored craft, cruisers, gunboats, torpedo boats, auxiliary pickets, vessels, an ambulance ship, colliers and auxiliary cruisers fitted as transports. At Hampton Roads are the five vessels comprising the flying squadron, under command of Commander W. S. Schley. Two of Commander Schley's vessels are battleships, another is a powerful armored cruiser, and the others are the fleetest naval cruisers in the world, with the exception of England's Torbliss and Formidable.

New York is the headquarters of the patrol squadron of five vessels under Commander Howell. These ships will be assisted by a number of tugs and yachts fitted as gunboats, which will patrol the Atlantic and Gulf coasts, from Galveston to Portland. There will be seven divisions of these craft, each assigned to a particular part of the coast line, New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Portland will have war-time monitoring to assist in their defense, and these divisions and a number of other ports on the Atlantic, Gulf and Pacific coasts will maintain flotillas of strong tugs, armed and protected, to help rapid attacks of hostile ships. Revenue cutters, lighthouse tenders and coast survey and other steamers will be attached to the various squadrons of regular naval vessels.

The Pacific coast sea defense will be entrusted to the cruisers and revenue cutters on that side and will, of course, be assisted by the dynamite cruisers, Nicholas, purchased from Brazil, mailed from Rio Janeiro yesterday for Key West.

A TRAVELING MAN

Gives Some Valuable Hints Regarding Care of the Health While Traveling.

R. W. Winchendon, a commercial traveler from Birmingham, whose business keeps him almost constantly on the road, relates in the Sunday News the dangers to health resulting from constant change of residence and the way he overcame the usual injurious effects.

He says: One thing people traveling cannot very well avoid is the constant change in water and food; the stomach never has an opportunity to become accustomed to anything, and in a few years, or much sooner, the average traveling man becomes a hopeless dyspeptic.

For several years I suffered more or less from indigestion, sour stomach, headache, dizziness, for food, often lost my appetite, was on the stomach and the usual unpleasant effects of imperfect digestion.

Nearly every traveling man has his favorite remedy for different troubles, and I tried all of them with indifferent results. Finally on the train between Pittsburgh and Philadelphia one day, I overheard a conversation between two ladies, one of whom had suffered severely from indigestion, and stated she had been completely cured by a remedy which she called Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I remembered the capsules and at the next town I inquired at the first drug store and bought a package of the tablets, and from that day to this I have never been without them. They are pleasant, taste good, and I feel a secret patient medicine, but composed of vegetable essences, pure pepsin, fruit salts and gentian root, being in tablet form, they never lose their good qualities, but a light medicine would, but are always fresh and ready for use.

I carry a box in my pocket continually, and whenever I see any symptoms of indigestion, take also one or two each meal, and for a year and a half I have not lost a day by reason of poor health, and can eat anything and nothing what I eat; my digestion is absolutely perfect, as far as I can judge from my feelings and although there may be other stomach medicines just as good as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, I do not know what they are. Certainly for people who travel they are far ahead of any other, they can be carried in the pocket and used whenever needed.

I believe they are sold by all druggists at 50 cents, and believe anyone who will try them will agree with me, that for indigestion and stomach trouble Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are unequalled.

SCENES AT HAVANA.

What the British Consul General Said of the Situation There.

New York, April 22.—A Tampa, Fla., special to the Evening Telegram says: The Olivette left her dock at Port Tampa at 1:30 o'clock Monday afternoon, having on board 250 Spanish subjects, on their way to Havana. As she left the dock they were cheered and bid von voyage by their friends, who were remaining. I heard some cries of "Viva Espana" from some persons on board the ship, but no answering cheers from those on the docks.

After leaving Tampa bay we headed straight west on our course. A Spanish light and took our departure, these direct for Porto Rico. The weather was beautiful all the way, and the Spanish were as light hearted and merry as if going on a lark trip.

The Olivette left at a good 15-knot gait. We stopped opposite Morro castle for a plot at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning. We made in exactly twenty and a half hours a distance of 225 miles.

Flowing from the shore of Morro castle was a string of code signals, which meant, "Enter; all's well." As the ship took this station on the water we slowly went ahead, the captain giving his orders to the man at the wheel in the uniform of Spanish soldiers.

On the right hand side going in, called Punta battery, I saw about 100 men, most of them in the uniform of Spanish soldiers, at work strengthening the fortifications.

On Cabana's spit there were crowds of soldiers on top of the fortification walls, and behind the officers of the passengers of "Viva Espana."

We passed on near the house of the Alfonso XII to our anchorage, where a flag of small boats was awaiting us. The Spanish disembarked with their customary respectful chatter, mingled with the howls and oaths which are always used by Spanish boatmen.

From where we were lying the city seemed very new to me. The harbor about clear of ships. I counted five Spanish merchant steamers, two Spanish warships, Alfonso XII and the gunboat Nueva Espana, and the French corvette Fulton. We anchored about 100 yards from the shore, and the Spanish officers with the commission in the stern sheet, pulling around the ship until we sailed, on the lookout to see that no harm came to the harbor.

Way up the harbor lay the two ward line steamships City of Washington and Saratoga. They were the only American vessels in the harbor, I presume, because I never had not plucked his word that they should come to no harm.

D. E. Dudley, of the United States marine hospital service, and formerly stationed with Dr. Freeman in Havana, accompanied us, acting under instructions from Surgeon General Wyman.

On arrival at Havana he was requested by British Consul Gollan to come on shore.

On his return he told me that Mr. Gollan was badly handicapped, owing to the fact that the 100 men of the American consulate were carried off by one of Gen. Lee's clerks in the haste of departure. This safe holds the souls of the American consul and consequently all documents made for the United States near the seal of "Merry England." Gen. Lee's clerks also carried away the keys which open the consulate mail bags, and as many private letters were received in care of the consul they are now at the consulate to which Mr. Gollan has no keys for.

Mr. Dudley told me that Havana looked just about the same as ever in time. There did not appear to be any excitement. We went to the Inglaterra and Pineda hotels and found them almost deserted.

Capt. Gen. Blanco assured Mr. Gollan that there was positively no danger to American ships; that even in case of a cruel war the plant line ships would be regarded as neutral and exempt from injury, as they carry the Spanish mails to and from Havana and are in that way of service to Spanish merchants.

As soon as our passengers were taken we got up anchor. At 4:45 p. m. we passed close astern of the gunboat Nueva Espana. Several officers were on the afterdeck. As we passed, one of them raised his right arm in salute. Several of our officers raised their caps in return, whereupon the rest of the Spanish officers followed suit. We dipped our

REGAINED HEALTH.

Grafting Letters to Mrs. Pinkham From Happy Women.

"I Owe You My Life."

Mrs. E. WOOLHISE, Mills, Neb., writes:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I owe my life to your Vegetable Compound. The doctors said I had consumption and nothing could be done for me. My menstruation had stopped and they said my blood was turning to water. I had several doctors. They all said I could not live. I began the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it helped me right away. I am returned and I have gained in weight. I have better health than I have had for years. It is wonderful what your Compound has done for me."

"I Feel Like a New Person."

Mrs. GEO. LEACH, 1609 Belle St., Alton, Ill., writes:

"Before I began to take your Vegetable Compound I was a great sufferer from womb trouble. Menstrues would appear two and three times in a month, causing me to be so weak I could not stand. I could neither sleep nor eat, and looked so badly my friends hardly knew me."

"I took doctor's medicine but did not derive much benefit from it. My menstruation gave me one of your little books, and after reading it I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I feel like a new person. I would not give your Compound for all the doctor's medicine in the world. I can not praise it enough."

flag to them, which salute was returned, and we went unobserved out of the harbor.

SHIPPED FIRST ORE

Season Began at the Missabe Dock With Two Cargoes Yesterday.

NOT MANY SHIPPING

Three Mines Sending Ore Down—Telephones For Two Harbors Docks.

The first cargo of the season shipped from the Duluth, Missabe & Northern Railroad company's docks were loaded yesterday. The schooner Moravia took 100 tons from the Commodore mine, it being a part of the stock that remained in the docks all winter and which has just been thawed out.

The schooner Tyrone was loaded with 340 tons of Franklin ore which has been shipped from the mines this spring.

About 150 cars of ore are now being received at the docks daily from the Franklin, Commodore and Adams mines which are the only mines that have shipped over this road thus far this season. The big consumers of ore from the Commodore and Oliver company mine do not, as a rule, call for delivery much before the middle of May and the shipping season will not begin in earnest before the first of the month.

All of the mines are ready for the season's business to begin and the road was never in as good condition for taking care of a heavy traffic as it now is. Very extensive improvements have been made in the roadbed since the close of navigation last fall, new bridges and culverts have been put in, yards and switches have been placed in first-class shape and a large amount of rolling stock purchased, including 40 modern ore cars, of thirty tons capacity each and several locomotives. The extension of ore dock No. 2 has been completed and the capacity of the plant is increased 20,000 tons.

MAY PUT IN TELEPHONES. Iron Range Road Thinks of Putting Them on Ore Docks.

The Duluth & Iron Range Railroad company is considering a proposition for fitting the Two Harbors ore docks out with the Smith telephone system, which was designed for use on the large boats to take the place of the old-fashioned speaking tubes. The telephones were placed in the steamships Thomas Crum and have worked successfully. The steamship Yale has been supplied with the telephones this spring. The inventor, Randall Smith, will arrive in Duluth next week from Chicago to place experimental wires in the Two Harbors docks. The system is being used in the coal mines in Bay county, Mich., and has proved a great convenience.

PRINCETON ENTHUSIASM.]

Ex-President Cleveland's Stirring Speech to Students.

Princeton, N. J., April 22.—The greatest student demonstration since the civil war took place on Princeton's campus last night. One thousand students paraded through the town and about the campus and finally drew up in front of ex-President Cleveland's home and with ringing cheers induced him to come out. The ex-President was unbounded and Mr. Cleveland made a speech. Every sentence of which was loudly cheered. He said in part: "I suppose this demonstration is a evidence of your patriotism in this critical hour of our country. Let us hope that in this crisis which is upon us, our arms will sustain their prowess and that it may be demonstrated in better ways than in the past. Stern duties face the American people today and let us hope that the duties may be performed in the same high way that our duties were performed in the preliminary stages of the trouble, and the days to come let us prepare ourselves for their proper performance on all occasions of those duties, and in so far as in us lies, let us be courageous and righteous to the end." The crowd for the president before the crowd of enthusiastic students took their march again.

AMUSEMENTS.

"SHALL WE FORGIVE HER?"

"Shall We Forgive Her?" came to the Lyceum tomorrow night with the prestige of a success achieved in New York as well as in London, where it was first produced a year or so ago. It has been provided with appropriate scenery by Manager Jacob Litt, and the cast is headed by no less a person than Marie Walworth, an actress who has few equals in her particular line. There will doubtless be many who have followed Miss Walworth's career as a successful star who will take this opportunity of seeing her in a new role and in a modern melodrama.

"THE DEVIL'S AUCTION."

Next Monday and Tuesday evenings, with a matinee Tuesday, "The Devil's Auction" will be at the Lyceum. Charles H. Yale's "Forever Devil's Auction" has enrolled among its members some very beautiful women, notable among whom are Mildred Holden, Mabel Harrison, Flora Leonard, Eleanor Worthington and Mayme Mayo, who represent the American contingent; Annella Mayers, Adele Amore, who hail from sunny Italy, and Fraulein Wasserman, from Germany, while there are others from England, Poland, Hungary, Russia and almost all known points of the civilized globe.

MARKS BROS' COMPANY.

"The Little Duchess" was excellently presented at Turner hall last evening by the Marks Bros' company and a large audience was present. Tonight "The Counterfeiters" will be presented. Tomorrow afternoon "Uncle Tom's Cabin" and tomorrow evening "The Rose of Kerry."

HAVANA'S CAPTURE.

As the North Atlantic squadron is now blockading Havana and will soon take possession of that city and Morro castle, a condensed story of a previous capture of the same place by American and British troops will undoubtedly be read with interest. Probably few people are aware that Havana was once captured from Spain. It may be remarked in passing that history frequently repeats itself.

The capture was made in 1762 by 2000
American provincial troops and 14,000
British troops under Lord Albemarle.

"Old Put," commanded one of the American regiments. The army landed in June, Morro castle was stormed July 20, and Havana surrendered Aug. 11.

Thirty thousand Spanish soldiers and sailors took part in the defense, but they were completely overpowered by an army half as large. Twelve Spanish line-of-battle ships were in the harbor, three of which were sunk to block the entrance. The British captured property worth $1,400,000. At one time during the siege an immense number of the British were sick. England made a great mistake when, a year later, she traded Havana back to Spain. It may be set down as a certainty that when Spain loses Havana this time, she loses it forever.

CUBA'S RESOURCES.

The Buffalo News has condensed a few facts about the resources of Cuba which are of special interest now. The area of Cuba is about 42,000 square miles. Its greatest length is 760 miles—about 200 miles short of the distance from New York to Chicago by the regular railroad route. Its breadth ranges from 20 to 45 miles. Its soil is prolific in the production of food supplies. Antonio y Morales, a noted authority, has prepared a table showing the variety and quantities of the staples that can be raised on a tract of thirty-five acres in Cuba. A few of them are: sugar, 10 year produces thousands of pounds of sugar, coffee, tobacco, cacao (chocolate), cotton, indigo, corn, rice, sage, bananas and yuca. No soil in any of the states in this country can compare with the soil of Cuba in the variety and quantity of seasonable products for its population.

In 1893 the Cuban exports of leaf tobacco were 227,865 bales; of manufactured cigars, 147,365,000; and of cigarettes, 39,651,493 packages. The other products of her main exports were 718,294 tons of sugar, while she produced in all $15,824 tons. The exports of molasses to the United States alone in 1893 were 7654 hogheads, and of rum
the exports were 9308 pipes.

Cuba could do under a system of cultivation like that which governs the United States. Only 10 per cent of Cuban soil is under cultivation, 7 per cent is not reclaimed and 4 per cent is under forests. Great tracts of the island when the war commenced, Cuba had, are practically unexplored. Cuba had,

when the war commenced, a population of 1,500,000. She can support in plenty a population of 10,000,000. Her forests are stocked with the finest wood in the world. The mineral resources of the island are great, yet the mineral interests are undeveloped, except a small quantity of the iron ore deposits in which Mr. Rockefeller is interested.

Almost all the metals are found in Cuba. Cuba is rich in marble. Her fruits are valuable and little cultivated.
The climate is admirably suited for the olive, the orange and lemon, the pineapple and the banana are indigenous. As the News says, Cuba is waiting the hour when Yankee capitalists and Yankee energy will find the conditions such that they can feel secure in their investments and know that they will be protected in the quiet and peaceable prosecution of developing the country, and that hour will come when the Spaniards have been forced to relinquish their sovereignty over the island and a stable, independent government has been established by the Cuban people.

THE WAR HAS BEGUN.

By recalling Minister Polo from Washington and presenting Minister Woodford with his passports from Madrid, Spain answered the ultimatum of the United States with a declaration of war. Having made her choice between giving up possession of Cuba and waging war to retain it, Spain has entered upon which every American finally believes is a warfare which will be disastrous to Spanish sovereignty in Porto Rico as well as in Cuba. Had Premier Sagasta chosen to yield to the demands of this country and granted independence to the Cubans, he might still have held Porto Rico, and the Spanish flag would still have floated in the Western hemisphere. There can be but one ending, however, to the conflict which has now begun—the loss by Spain of both her American possessions. This is the opinion of the whole civilized world, except the Spanish people themselves, and the articles committed in their name in Cuba place them outside the pale of civilization.

The North Atlantic squadron of the American navy sailed this morning for Havana and the blockade of that harbor, and probably also of Matanzas, has already been begun. What the next step will be can only be conjectured at this time. Gen. Blanco will probably be called upon to surrender Havana. Naturally he will refuse. Then, after the lapse of sufficient time to enable non-combatants in Havana to seek places of safety, the bombardment of Morro castle and other forts, and of the city itself, will begin, or else the blockade will be continued until the Spaniards are forced to capitulate. No doubt the flying squadron will move very soon, and proceed to Porto Rico to capture San Juan and appropriate the coal held there for the use of the Spanish fleet.
But there are mere speculations. The facts will soon be known.

"REMEMBER THE MAINE."

The signal displayed on Commodore Schley's flagship when the flying squadron sails from Hampton roads will be "Remember the Maine." It will hardly be needed, as the Chicago Journal says, to animate the sailors, who know over 260 of their number perished as the first victims of a war that began with murder. But it should be repeated all over this land until the war is over, that the country may not forget one of the principal items of the account.

The Maine was destroyed by Spaniards. Her sailors were murdered. The war should not cease until full reparation has been made by the nation responsible for the crime. No treaty of peace should be considered which does not include among its terms:

1. Apology to this country and to the survivors of the outrage.

2. Money damages to the heirs of the murdered.

3. Discovery and prompt execution of the murderers.

Remember the Maine. This says the Journal, is the only reparation Spain can make, and she should be compelled to make it, in addition to relinquishing Cuba.

When the flag shall sail, "Advance in line, Train ships on an even keel."
When the gun shall flash and the shot shall ring,
And bound on the ringing steel,
When the rattling blasts from the armored masts
Are hurled their deadliest rain, Let their voices loud, through the blinding cloud,
Cry, ever, the fierce refrain,
"Remember, remember the Maine!"

AN INCOME TAX.

According to late advices from Washington, an income tax is one of the features of the bill now being prepared with the object of raising revenue to pay the expenses of the war against Spain. This provision is said to have already been drafted. It differs very materially from the income tax contained in the Wilson tariff bill of 1894, and which was declared to be unconstitutional by the United States supreme court.

There will be an apportionment of the amount to be paid between the different states, based on population. With this as a basis there will be a graduated income tax. The more populous Eastern states will, of course, come in for the greater part of the burden, but, in the end, if this proposition is adopted, it will result in the substitution of an amendment to the constitution of the United States for a straight income tax, based on the actual wealth and return

rule among the American islands: Porto Rico pays Spain this year in taxes

$4,374,874, of which only $650,000 is spent for the benefit of the native population.
Of the 489,267 whites on the island only 96,867 can read and write. The illiterate aggregate 65,328. The Spaniards supported by the Porto Ricans number not less than 35,000. This picture is about to be changed very materially.

A late fad among Brooklyn women is taking tabs upon these tabbies says that constitutional, and one who has been taking tabs on these tabbies says that various cuts, accompanied by their mistresses or maids, and decorated with colored ribbons, were encountered by him the other morning. Well, asks the Boston Transcript, why should not the harmless, necessary cut be taken out for an airing, as well as Tray, Blanche and Sweetheart, or even the human pet, if you will?

The pronounced democracy of Sir Charles Dilke is a source of grief to Queen Victoria, who was a close friend of the baronet's father. "How often," said her majesty, not long ago, "have I held the boy on my lap and stroked his hair with affection!" And then, she added, with a smile, "dear me, I must have rubbed it the wrong way!"

The Grand Rapids Magnet (Rep.) says: The Duluth Herald should either become a Republican paper or get a Democratic editor."

It gives all the news no matter which political party it favors or hits. This is why it has a larger circulation than the party organs.

Where is the Spanish fleet? One day it is reported at Cape Verde and the next day it is said to have sailed for an unknown destination, and finally it is again located at Cape Verde. It is well to remember that this news comes from Spanish sources, and is therefore unreliable.

Senator Elkins is still telling Washington correspondents what he would do in regard to Cuba and Porto Rico.
The best thing he can do is to shut his mouth. The people are tired of his talk, and they are opposed to anything that he favors.

Ohio newspapers convey the impression that Mr. Foraker is about the whole thing in that state. His speech for Cuban recognition aroused great interest in Ohio. And it was an able and even brilliant speech.

The Crookston Tribune's guess that Governor Clough has been sent by his loyalty to his country or his devotion to the cause of Cuba, is a very good one.

White others have been carried off their feet by the wild wave of popular feeling, his conservatism has steadied him, and above all the responsibility of his position has been present with him. Firm and unyielding in his advocacy of the cause of Cuba, he has kept the impetuous ones in check, saved himself from being carried away by the passion of the moment, and has finally come up to the side of our chief magistrate, to give his time for action finally came, he stood in his place in the senate to the resolution from the committee, the world received a state paper the magnificent ability of which has not been equaled, in this half of the century, at least, compelling the admiration and approbation of friend and foe alike by its masterly statement.

Adams, Jackson, Lincoln, Davies and Blaine are the only names of presidents of the United States who have the advertisement of our page in the world's history. Not perfect, extremely faulty in some parts of its political views, that is from a Democratic standpoint, but able, eloquent and pure, an age when purity and statesmanship do not often go together, it is a credit to the nation to possess him. Great men seldom become the presidents of our republic, and there is a place in history and in the minds and hearts of their countrymen which is accorded to but few, and which is seldom given to any man who is not efficient, modesty, often sits, which such men as our chief magistrate, who which is a prouder heritage for their children and a more enduring legacy for posterity than all of the mere titles and official dignities that are too often unworthily bestowed.

The Call to the Colors.
Alabama, Tennessee,
People of the Southland, answer!
For the land that has been given to
"here" from Sandy Rio Grande,
When the sun rises and the stars
"here" the hunters of Kentucky
Hail from Charleston's hills,
Every soldier in the colors,
Every rugged mountaineer,
Veiled in the shadows of the night,
Lifts his head to answer "here!"
And a million voices cry:
Throb responsive like a drum
Rolling from the rough Sierras,
"You have called us, and we come."
O'er Missouri sounds the challenge, O'er the great West and the plain;
"Are you ready, Minnesota?"
"Are you ready, men of Maine?"
From the woods of Ontario,
From the farms of Illinois,
From the fields of Massachusetts,
"We are ready, men and boys."
Axmen free, and railroad brakemen,
Clerks who trade the cities' pulses,
Gleam the bayonets from their plunders
From the sullen, hungry waves, Big-boned Swede and large-limbed German,
Celt and Saxon swell the call,
And the Adirondack echo:
"We are ready, one and all!"
True to feud and peace to faction,
All forgot is party zeal.
When the war ships clear for action,
Europe boasts her standing armies,
Sells who blindly fight by trade;
We have seven million blades,
Laborers with arm and mattock,
Railroad prince and railroad brakeman
Build our line of fighting men.
When the stars are sternly clustered
Gleam the bayonets from their plunders
When their daggers toward the foe,
With their daggers toward the foe,

Don't Forget the Maine.
Remember the Maine, the battle cry on every American man-of-war, and the watchword of every soldier on his boat in the war with Spain. Never in the annals of any and barbarous crime has been permitted stand for that purpose. The Maine was a ship of war, and she was not ordered by the government to be a ship of peace. As a result of it 266 lives were sacrificed in the most horrible manner. The ship was not a ship of peace, but a ship of war, and she was not a ship of war, but a ship of peace.
The ship was not a ship of war, but a ship of peace, and she was not a ship

This Great Retail Establishment is a "Store of Confidence" in the fullest and broadest meaning of the words.

The entire community has long since learned to trust absolutely in this store—to believe its statements—to depend upon its goods—to endorse its methods, and we strive to continually merit this feeling of extreme trust, no matter at what cost. * * * * * In these "end of the century" years of reckless efforts to secure business by fearfully exaggerated advertising and by very questionable methods, we insist that this store shall stand out prominently as a leading example of successful, progressive, straightforward merchandising—that it shall unite all of the best ideas and inventions of modern retailing with the strictest integrity of this or any other decade of years. * * * * * We have also repeatedly stated and proven another important point and we hear it acknowledged hourly by customers in our different departments. The point is this:

"Our prices are absolutely the lowest" not for one day in the week only, but every day in the year.

One Hundred Thousand Men Wanted By President McKinley to Serve Their Country Against the Spanish foe.

BILL WAS SIGNED TODAY

Bill Authorizing the Call Was Rushed Through Both Houses of Congress and Approved By the President.

Washington, April 22.—The volunteer army bill passed both houses and was signed by the president at 3:40 p. m. The call for troops will not likely be issued until tomorrow.

Washington, April 22.—Secretary Alger today took to the White House for the president's signature the proclamation prepared in the war department for one year. In many respects the call follows the line of the first call made by President Lincoln of April 15, 1861, when he asked for 75,000 men. Necessarily there are a number of changes. If the precedents are followed, Secretary Alger, promptly upon the signing and issuance of the proclamation will request the executives of the several states to cause to be immediately detached from the militia the quota they may be called on to furnish.

The government will communicate the time at which this militia will be expected at the rendezvous, where they will be met by officers of the United States, who will muster them into the service of the government. Following this the secretary will designate officers for the master service and they will report at the place in each state where the troops may be rendezvoused. President Lincoln's first call was for but 75,000 men, but the total number furnished was 91,516.

THE CALL AUTHORIZED. Washington, April 22.—The house today very anxious to get the bill authorizing the president to call into the service of the United States the militia of the several states to cause to be immediately detached from the militia the quota they may be called on to furnish. The bill was passed by the house by a vote of 125 yeas to 10 nays. The bill was then sent to the senate. The senate will consider the bill tomorrow. The bill is a measure of great importance. It authorizes the president to call into the service of the United States the militia of the several states to cause to be immediately detached from the militia the quota they may be called on to furnish. The bill is a measure of great importance. It authorizes the president to call into the service of the United States the militia of the several states to cause to be immediately detached from the militia the quota they may be called on to furnish.

BLANCO'S LATEST DECREE. Declares the Island to Be in a State of War.

Havana, April 22.—Capt. Gen. Blanco has published a decree confirming his previous decrees and declaring the island to be in a state of war. He also annuls his former similar decrees granting pardon to insurgents, and places under martial law all those who are guilty of treason and crimes against the independence of the nation, sedition, revolts, attacks against the form of government and against those who disturb the public by means of printed matter.

PROTEST FROM HAVANA. Spaniards Do Not Like Interference of United States.

Havana, April 22.—The colonial government has published a manifesto protesting against the intervention of the United States, at the moment of the establishment of the new regime and political liberty, and when Cuba, for the first time, was going to elect a colonial parliament, replacing Spain's sovereignty in Cuba with autonomy. The manifesto also intimates that it is the intention of the United States to annex Cuba and adds: "It is the duty of all the inhabitants to repel the invaders and remember the heroic conduct of the defenders of Havana over a century ago against the invaders of Alamo." The manifesto concludes with a warning to the United States, that the king and the queen regret.

MARYLAND'S STATE FORCES. Steps Taken to Put Them on a War Footing.

Baltimore, April 22.—The first step towards putting the militia of Maryland on a war footing was taken this morning when Governor Lowndes issued an order promoting Adj. Gen. Allison

A RICH PROSPECTIVE PRIZE.

Valuable Cargo Starts From Canaries For Havana.

Las Palmas, Canary Islands, April 22.—The Spanish steamer Montserrat left here on April 13 with a valuable cargo for Havana. The vessel may prove a rich prize for a United States cruiser.

SPANISH FLEET'S MOVEMENTS.

This Government In Total Ignorance of Dons' Plans.

Washington, Apr. 22.—Up to noon nothing was received by the government indicating that the Spanish fleet had left Cape Verde islands. Whatever may be the purpose of the Spanish government as to the disposition of this fleet is not known, but the belief among high officials is that the Spanish fleet will hesitate before sending the pick of their navy into American or Cuban waters. It must be realized, it is said, that cut off from a supply of coal they would be at great disadvantage, and would run very great risk of total annihilation. Nor is it believed that Capt. Gen. Blanco will be in a hurry to precipitate a conflict, and therefore it is not expected that Capt. Sampson's fleet will have very much to do during the next few days but to prevent supplies from entering Havana. It is believed, nevertheless, that hostilities will not be delayed longer than is necessary to get our army within supporting distance. When that is accomplished our navy will not delay an hour, but will immediately attack the forts around Havana.

TOWED TO KEY WEST

Nashville Brings Her Spanish Prize Into Port With a Prize Crew.

Key West, April 22.—The first Spanish prize is the steamer Buena Ventura, from Pasaquaga, Miss., for Rotterdam, with lumber. The Nashville dredged a blank shot, which the Spanish ignored. This was followed by a shot from a 6-pounder. The Buena Ventura then surrendered with her crew of twenty men. The Nashville towed her prize into this harbor at 11 o'clock this morning and put a prize crew on board. Both ships are lying well out in the stream. The news of the capture of the Spanish ship set the people of Key West frantic with enthusiasm. All work has been suspended and the docks are crowded with people.

ON WAITING ORDERS

That Is Condition of Affairs With Commodore Schley's Flying Squadron.

Fort Monroe, Va., April 22.—"On waiting orders" is all that can be said of the flying squadron early today. The routine duties on board were gone through with the same manner as on any other day. The only difference noticeable is that officers are not given shore duty. Every officer was on board last night and anticipated starting orders. The definite news of the movement of the Key West fleet created little excitement as it had been anticipated. What seemed chiefly to interest the officers was whether the Cape Verde fleet of Spain had departed, or if being the general impression that the detachment of the Massachusetts are denied, no order of her attachment to any other fleet having been received.

HAWAIIAN SEIZURE.

Islands May Have Been Taken By United States a Week Ago.

San Francisco, April 22.—Advisers from Honolulu, under date of April 14, state that it is rumored Minister Sewall and the United States admiral would take formal possession of the island in the name of the United States as a coaling station on April 15. It was impossible to confirm the rumor before the steamer Rio Janeiro left Honolulu.

SPANISH RESERVES CALLED.

Madrid, April 22.—A royal decree has been gazetted calling out 30,000 men of the reserves of 1897.

ADAMANT SAMPSON NOW.

Washington, April 22.—Secretary Long said this afternoon that Capt. Sampson had been appointed an "acting rear admiral." It is supposed he will be named later as rear admiral.

SUBSCRIPTION FOR SPAIN.

Paris, April 22.—A Spanish financier has subscribed 50,000 francs towards the fund which the ambassador of Spain is raising to strengthen the fleet of that country.

TROOPS MAY BE NEEDED.

Hartford, Conn., April 22.—The adjutant general has received information from Washington that twelve companies will be called almost immediately.

FREE PROVISIONS OFFERED.

Havana, April 22.—Delegations of Spanish merchants have visited Gen. Blanco, offering to furnish free provisions if necessary to the garrison and to the poor.

IS A KNOXVILLE MAN.

Knoxville, Tenn., April 22.—Commander Washburn Maynard of the Nashville, which fired the first shot and made the first capture in the war, is a Knoxville man. Enthusiasm on account of the news is intense.

THE NEWS IN WASHINGTON.

Tidings of Spanish Steamer's Capture Causes Satisfaction.

Washington, April 22.—The report that the gunboat Nashville had captured a Spanish merchantman gained rapidly in circulation throughout the navy department shortly after noon today. It caused much excitement, and was eagerly discussed as the first outward evidence of the actual existence of war. Secretary Long has, however, not received word of the capture, except through newspaper sources. Notwithstanding this, naval officers credited the report, and discussed it as though it was an accomplished fact. It was said that a part of the Nashville's crew had been placed on the boat, and the captured vessel had a valuable cargo, including considerable coal.

A SUSPICIOUS CRAFT.

Probable Spanish Sea Dog Hovering About Cape Race.

St. Johns, April 22.—Ships which have just arrived here report having sighted a mysterious steamer off Cape Race. She is schooner rigged, has two masts without yards and was not showing any signals. Current rumor has it that she is a Spanish warship watching for American vessels.

DES MOINES CITY EMPLOYEES.

They May Go and Fight and Get a Present Besides.

Des Moines, Iowa, April 22.—The city council this morning passed a resolution ordering that all members of city departments who volunteer to enter the service of the United States be allowed sixty days' pay from the time for enlistment and upon returning, if bearing honorable discharges, they are to be reinstated in the positions from which they resigned.

MADRID'S ENTHUSIASM.

Madrid, April 22.—An immense crowd witnessed the military parade in front of the palace this morning, and intense enthusiasm was displayed while the young king appeared on a balcony. A big demonstration has been arranged to take place before the military club tonight.

DOE WANTS TO SERVE.

Milwaukee, April 22.—Gen. Joseph B. Doe, former assistant secretary of war, has tendered his services to the government.

A SPEEDY YACHT.

Washington, April 22.—Augustus Scherhorn, of New York city, has given his line yacht, the Free Lance, to the government, and it has been accepted with thanks.

PARIS TREATY IGNORED.

Spain Is Evidently Disposed to Allow Privateering.

A GENEROUS OFFER THE DREADED CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED

Medical Council and Laboratory Department.

Dr. J. R. Stocum, Manufacturing Chemist.

Stocum Building, No. 98 Pine Street, New York, April 22, 1898.

To the Editor of The Duluth Evening Herald.

My dear Sir:—

In reply to your late advice, am pleased to state that I have discovered a reliable and absolute cure for the dreaded consumption; also for throat, bronchial and lung troubles; coughs, catarrh, la grippe, scrofula, general decline or weakness, loss of flesh and all wasting-away conditions.

By its timely use thousands of apparently hopeless cases have been permanently cured.

There are, undoubtedly, many of your friends and readers anxious regarding the health of themselves or relatives, who would be benefited or cured, if they would allow me to advise them in the use of my new discoveries.

So proof-positive am I of their power to cure, based upon actual experience, and to better demonstrate their wonderful merits, I will send Three Free Bottles (The Stocum New System of Medicine) to any of your readers who will write me at my Laboratory, 98 Pine Street, New York, giving name, post office and express address.

Always sincerely yours,

J. R. Stocum, M.D.

Editor's Note.—The above fac-simile letter is published for our readers' benefit. It is a plain, honest, straightforward offer, and is made to introduce the merits of the Dr. Stocum New System of Medicine. Every sufferer should take advantage of it at once, and we ask when writing Dr. Stocum, to kindly mention the DULUTH HERALD.

Easaneba shippers are very anxious to cover more season ore at 45 cents, but vessels still refuse it. It is said also that some ore for the summer months at 55 cents from the head of the lakes might be secured if vessels were offered, and that coal shippers are figuring on covering quite a little coal to go to the lakes, running through the season, at 25 cents.

The Court Calendar.

Deputy Clerk of Court Kennedy this morning began work upon the book he composes five times a year—the court calendar. He begins with the cases continued from last term, which give the calendar a good start and as the notes of issue in new cases come in he adds them. There are forty-six cases continued from the last term. As a rule fully half of those are continued again at the call of the calendar at the beginning of the new term.

CAN GO IN ANY TIME

E. L. Fisher Received His Commission Today But Will Wait Until May 1.

CAN BE TERMINATED

City Attorney Says City Can Withdraw From New Duluth Lighting Contract.

E. L. Fisher this morning received his commission as postmaster of Duluth. It was neatly tied up with blue ribbon and to Mr. Fisher's notion it is one of the handsomest specimens of the engraver's and penman's art he has ever seen. He will guard it carefully until May 1, when he will show it to Postmaster Helmski and forthwith take possession of the office.

J. M. Smith, who has been appointed receiver of the land office, to succeed E. L. Fisher, has not received his commission, although his bond was forwarded to Washington almost simultaneously with Mr. Fisher's. It is expected to arrive here by ship by almost any mail.

CITY ATTORNEY'S OPINION.

Says Council Can Discontinue Fond du Lac Lighting Contract.

City Attorney Richards has prepared and filed opinions in the matter of street lighting and New Duluth and Fond du Lac and that relating to the regulation of telephone rates under the present company's franchise. As to the first, the city attorney holds that the council has power to discontinue the present contract and provide other means for lighting those sections. As to telephone rates, he holds that under the franchise the rates are subject to regulations to make them conform with what may be a reasonable rate as determined by the rates charged in other cities.

May Go Over Another Term.

There is but one more case on the March term calendar of the district court, and that is the case of the Lake-side Street Railway company against the Duluth Street Railway company. It was expected that the case would be tried long before this, but at first it was delayed because of Superintendent Warren's illness and now it is waiting for Judge Dickinson's return from the East. It will probably be tried at the next term of court, for it is not likely that there will be time for the short period now intervening before the beginning of the new term.

WATCH OUR INCH.

We will open Ready for business in our new location in the old Glass Block, Monday, April 25. We extend an invitation to call and see us in our new store. KELLY HARDWARE CO.

All That Is Claimed

For the twenty great plans of the world can be sustained. The public have set their own estimate on the Steinway, Knabe, Krantzsch & Bach, and the water is trickling off the corner of the East. It will probably be tried at the next term of court, for it is not likely that there will be time for the short period now intervening before the beginning of the new term.

NEVER PAID FARE.

New Orleans Times-Democrat: "It was raining like thunder," as the small boy expressed it, and just as the car turned around the corner at the Fern street the trolley came off. Of course all the lights went out. The conductor swore a few sulphuric swears in his endeavors to put the pole on again. When he came into the car, he found the trolley car was a few feet from the pole. A drunken man, who had been asleep in one corner of the car, adds them. There are forty-six cases continued from the last term. As a rule fully half of those are continued again at the call of the calendar at the beginning of the new term.

What ye laughin' about?

uttered the irate conductor, who just that minute had collected two fares from a foreigner who had been formally presented to him by the trolley car. "What ye laughin' about?" he asked. "I—he—was laughin' to see the blarney lights go out 'bout payin' their fares."

And just then the absent-minded chap

All That Is Claimed

For the twenty great plans of the world can be sustained. The public have set their own estimate on the Steinway, Knabe, Krantzsch & Bach, and the water is trickling off the corner of the East. It will probably be tried at the next term of court, for it is not likely that there will be time for the short period now intervening before the beginning of the new term.

NEVER PAID FARE.

New Orleans Times-Democrat: "It was raining like thunder," as the small boy expressed it, and just as the car turned around the corner at the Fern street the trolley came off. Of course all the lights went out. The conductor swore a few sulphuric swears in his endeavors to put the pole on again. When he came into the car, he found the trolley car was a few feet from the pole. A drunken man, who had been asleep in one corner of the car, adds them. There are forty-six cases continued from the last term. As a rule fully half of those are continued again at the call of the calendar at the beginning of the new term.

What ye laughin' about?

uttered the irate conductor, who just that minute had collected two fares from a foreigner who had been formally presented to him by the trolley car. "What ye laughin' about?" he asked. "I—he—was laughin' to see the blarney lights go out 'bout payin' their fares."

And just then the absent-minded chap

DETAILS OF THE WAR TAXES!

President McKinley Has Issued a Proclamation Calling for 125,000 Volunteers to Fight the Spanish Enemy.

OR TWO YEARS' SERVICE

Details for the Carrying Out of This Call to Be Arranged by the War Department at Once.

Washington, April 23.—The president today issued the following proclamation calling for 125,000 troops to serve two years:

A Proclamation.

Whereas, by a joint resolution of congress approved on April 20, 1898, entitled "A joint resolution for the recognition of the independence of the people of Cuba," demanding that the government of Spain relinquish its authority and government in the island of Cuba, to withdraw its land and naval forces from Cuba and Cuban waters, and directing the president of the United States to use the land and naval forces of the United States to carry these resolutions into effect; and

Whereas, by an act of congress entitled "An act to provide for the increasing of the military establishment of the United States in time of war, and for other purposes," approved April 22, 1898, the president was authorized, in order to raise a volunteer army, to issue his proclamation calling for volunteers to serve in the army of the United States;

Now, therefore, I, William McKinley, president of the United States, by virtue of power vested in me by the constitution and laws, and deeming sufficient occasion to exist, have thought fit to call for, and I hereby call for, volunteers to the aggregate number of 125,000 in order to carry into effect the purpose of the said resolution, the same to be apportioned as practicable among the several states and territories and the island of Columbia, according to population, and to serve for two years, unless sooner discharged. The details for this object will be immediately communicated to the proper authorities through the war department.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at Washington this 23rd day of April, 1898, of the independence of the United States the 123d.

By the president,

WILLIAM McKINLEY,

JOHN SHERMAN, Secretary of State.

"CHARACTERISTIC OF THE YANKEES."

Spaniards Ruffled at the Capture of the Buena Ventura.

Madrid, April 23.—The capture of the Spanish steamer Buena Ventura, by the United States gunboat Nashville, off Key West yesterday has aroused the greatest indignation, the Spaniards claiming that hostilities are not yet supposed to have begun. The newspapers of this city characterize the seizure of the ship as an act of piracy, this being in defiance of the international law, "characteristic of the Yankees."

SPANIARDS ENTHUSIA.

Over the Reported Capture of the Steamship Paris.

Madrid, April 23.—The reported capture of the Paris has caused great excitement and favorably affected prices on the bourse. The Spanish senate organized today. Capt. Gen. Blanco was congratulated on enthusiasm shown by the army.

TWO HARBORS PATRIOTIC.

Rousing Meeting Held to Ratify the War.

Two Harbors, April 23.—(Special to The Herald).—A rousing war ratification meeting was held at the court house last evening by the citizens. A stock of fireworks was exploded and a band, playing patriotic airs, led a procession through the streets. At the court house short speeches were made by Messrs. Dwan, Boulton, Penwarden, Blood, McGee, Lutz and Bryan. Resolutions endorsing the action of congress were introduced by Messrs. Dwan and McGee. Both were adopted with cheer. Mr. Dwan acted as chairman.

Before the crowd dispersed three cheers and a tier were given for Frank Coomer and Andrew Johnson, the two young men who enlisted last week in the navy.

AUDACE AT QUEENSTOWN.

Queensdown, April 23.—A Spanish torpedo boat Audace is still in dock at this port. No truth in report she left here at about the same time the Paris left Southampton.

RECRUITING AT MILWAUKEE.

Milwaukee, April 23.—The United States naval recruiting board closed its recruiting office in this city today.

WAR FLEET SIGHTED.

The Trojan Prince Sees a Spanish Fleet in Mid-Ocean.

New York, April 23.—The steamer Trojan Prince, which arrived here today from Naples, reported that on April 15 in latitude 36, longitude 10, she saw an unknown cruiser and three torpedo boats steaming west at full speed, supposed to be Spanish.

NEWFOUNDLAND NEUTRAL.

Governor Murray Issues a Proclamation of Neutrality.

St. John's, N. F., April 23.—Governor Murray has issued a neutrality proclamation.

Governor Murray, acting under instructions from the British government, issued a neutrality proclamation today warning British subjects against violation of the neutrality laws, as a state of war exists between Spain and the United States. The governor has also ordered that the St. John's dry dock be reserved for the use of British warships in the event of an emergency arising.

PARIS LIKELY SAFE.

Rumor That Spanish Cruiser Captured the American Liner Is Discredited.

London, April 23.—The afternoon newspapers of this city have received dispatches from Belfast saying trustworthy news has been received there that the American liner steamship Paris has been captured off the Irish coast by a Spanish cruiser.

It is believed, however, that the reports are but a revival of a rumor and are totally untrue.

DOUBTED IN PHILADELPHIA.

Philadelphia, April 23.—The fear for the safety of the steamship Paris, expressed in some quarters, is not shared by the officers of the International Navigation company. Clement A. Gresham, Jr., one of the managers of the line, laughed at the idea of the capture of the Paris.

"There is not a vessel in the Spanish navy which can come within two knots of the Paris," he said. "If the day is clear a vessel can be sighted twenty miles away. If there is any doubt of the vessel's nationality it is hardly likely that the Paris will try to make it out. Of course a careful lookout will be kept for Spanish vessels, but we don't expect any will be sighted which will give us any trouble."

The Paris has not returned to Southampton. The only information obtainable is that she passed the Lizard yesterday afternoon.

GOES TO THE COAST.

Revenue Cutter Gresham Will Make the Trip.

Cleveland, April 23.—The revenue cutter Gresham has been ordered to sail at once for the Atlantic coast, and will probably get away some time today.

In order to permit her passage through the canal. It is said the Canadian government will offer no objection to the Gresham passing through the canal.

SHIPS ARE ALL RIGHT.

Naval Officials Have No Fears for Oregon or Marietta.

Washington, April 23.—The navy department is full of awe of the whereabouts of the battleship Oregon and the cruiser Marietta, but for prudential reasons, the officials positively decline to say where the vessels are or whether or not they have been ordered to return to San Francisco, or in fact to make any statement respecting them further than that they have no apprehensions for their safety.

SEWALLS HAVE DOUBTS.

Bath, Me., April 23.—The members of the firm of Arthur Sewall & Co., owners of the schooner Shenandoah, which is reported to have been captured by Spanish aviators from San Francisco and taken to Liverpool, where she now lies, are at this time considering the possibility that she has been taken, and that the news of her safe arrival at Liverpool, where she now lies, is a hoax.

RECRUITING AT MILWAUKEE.

Milwaukee, April 23.—The United States naval recruiting board closed its recruiting office in this city today.

THE WAR TAXES.

Provisions of the Revenue Measure Introduced in Congress Today.

Washington, April 23.—The war revenue bill will be introduced in the house before adjournment this afternoon. It is said it will produce about $100,000,000 in revenue. The tax on beer and fermented liquors is increased from $1 to $2 a barrel, but no rebate for unused beer and destroyed stamps is allowed. The tax on tobacco and snuff is increased to $12 a pound; upon cigars to $4 per 1000 weighing more than three pounds per 1000, and $2 on cigars weighing less than three pounds per 1000; $4 per 1000 on cigarettes weighing more than three pounds per 1000 and $2 on cigarettes weighing less than three pounds.

A compensating bill of half that amount is the amount of the increase upon the stock of cigars and cigarettes on hand.

The following licenses are placed on tobacco dealers: In leaf tobacco, whose sales do not exceed $10,000 per year, shall pay a $25 license; those whose sales exceed $10,000, $45; dealers in tobacco whose sales do not exceed $10,000, $180; in excess of that amount, $12.

The same schedule applies to perfumery and cosmetics.

Chewing gum is to pay 1 cent for packets selling at 5 cents and 2 cents for packets exceeding 5 cents. Glycerine and mineral waters are to pay 1 cent per pint. Bonded dealers and other certificates of indebtedness after January 1, issued by any association or corporation, etc., are to pay 5 cents on each $100 or fraction thereof issued, and on stock 2 cents on each $100 of face.

On bank certificates and drafts exceeding 2 cents, bills of exchange, drafts at sight or promissory notes for circulation, not exceeding $100, 5 cents; between $100 and $500, 10 cents; between $500 and $1000, 15 cents; between $1000 and $5000, 20 cents; between $5000 and $10,000, 25 cents; between $10,000 and $25,000, 30 cents; between $25,000 and $50,000, 35 cents; and for each $25,000 in excess of $50,000, $1.

Foreign bills of exchange, letters of credit, including express money orders, to pay bank bills as bills of exchange or promissory notes, except when drawn in sums less than $3 or more.

CHICKEN SKINS

Used to Make a Ball Dress for a Fashionable Parisienne.

An evening dress made entirely of chicken skins has been on exhibition in the Parisian establishments of the Paris during the past week. This startling and unique garment was made for Mme. Montaupe, a fashionable Parisienne. The remarkable thing about the dress is its remarkable beauty and its durability, says the Kansas City Journal. True, it was worn by Mme. Montaupe, at a grand ball given by the Russian ambassador in Paris, but no other garment at that gorgeous affair aroused half so much admiration as the dress of chicken skin.

To appreciate the beauty of the dress it must be known that not less than 800 yards of chicken skin were used in the making of the skirt and bodice alone.

When the work of making the dress proper was finished several yards of the delicate skin material was used for the ruffles at the bottom of the skirt and the cuffs at the shoulders. The task completed, the gown was sent to the studio of one of the most skilled artists in France, Edmond Gilet, who painted upon the precious garment, in exquisite colors and with a superb effect, great bunches of pink and red roses and a rosette decoration, extending from the belt down the entire front. Finally there were ribbons of woven feathers and a belt of the same material, and these completed this most remarkable dress ever worn by woman. The cost of the gown was, of course, great—nearly reaching the $1000 mark in American money.

The slaughter of chickens necessary to the making of this garment was greater than the number of fowls required to complete the dress, for a selection was made from an enormous quantity of birds, which, if they gave signs of the slightest imperfections for the purpose, were immediately cast aside.

WHO GOES HOME?

Nineteenth Century. There is nothing more amusing, perhaps, in all the quaint and curious customs of the house of the nineteenth century than the custom which marks the termination of every sitting. The moment the hour strikes, the stentorian cry of the seigniors and policemen cry out in a loud, clear voice: "Who goes home?"

These mysterious words have sounded every night for centuries through the palace of Westminster. The custom dates from a time when it was necessary for members to go home in pairs, and to remain until the hour of the common protection against the footpads who infested the streets of London. But though that danger has passed away, the question: "Who goes home?" is still asked, night after night, during the session of parliament. No reply is given and none is expected.

FLEET AT HAVANA

Lots of Excitement When it Was Sighted But No Alarm.

Havana, April 23, 8:30 p. m., delayed in transmission.—Copyrighted, 1898.—At 4:45 this (Friday) afternoon the semaphore signaled that a fleet had been sighted on the eastern side of the island. It was said to be without any colors to show its nationality. From the front of the harbor, the correspondent of the Associated Press saw smoke in the distance, and soon afterwards he made out three vessels on the horizon. At that time La Punta, the fort on the side of the harbor opposite Morro castle, was crowded with curious people, including many ladies. In addition, crowds of people could be seen at various points of vantage, most of them gathering on the roofs of houses.

At 6 p. m. the semaphore signaled that it was the United States fleet, which was in sight, and at 8:15 p. m., a red flag was run up on the signal station, warning guns were fired from Morro castle, and afterwards from Cabanas fortress, adjoining it. This caused great excitement throughout the city, and was the first real news of war.

When the first signal came from the semaphore station, a British schooner, which was in the harbor, put to sea. She was immediately followed by the German steamer Hermes. Some time afterward the American steamer Saratoga put to sea.

The cannon shots from the fortress stirred up the regular troops, and volunteers throughout Havana, and its vicinity, and there was a rush to quarters. Capt. Gen. Blanco heard the shots while at the palace, to which place the commanders of the volunteers promptly reported, full of excitement and warlike enthusiasm. Some time afterward the captain general, accompanied by his staff, the general and others, left the palace and was warmly acclaimed by the soldiers and populace. The general then made a brief final inspection of the fortifications, and went to a spot from which he could see the approaching fleet. There certainly was no sign of alarm anywhere.

The Spaniards are confident that Havana is prepared for any eventuality, and they have great faith in the strength of their forces, batteries, etc., and in the effectiveness of their heavy artillery. In fact there was a feeling of satisfaction everywhere when it was seen that the hour of battle was apparently approaching, and that the Spaniards were soon to give battle to their enemies. Only those who witnessed the demeanor of the people, military and civilians, can understand the enthusiasm which prevailed on all sides.

At 5:20 p. m. there was a great movement of the masses through the streets and on all the squares. The coffee houses and clubs were crowded, and they were warmly welcomed by the anxious to measure arms with the "Invaders," and there was no expression of doubt as to the result. Every precaution possible has been taken to guard against any surprise and to resist an attack if the bombardment is commenced.

CAPE HORN INHABITANTS.

Patagonians Who Are Fleet of Foot and Fine Marksmen.

It may be as well to refer to some other tribes about Cape Horn which attracted the attention of Professor Hatcher. For example may be mentioned the Yaghuans, who live nearer to the South Pole than any other known people, says the Boston Transcript. They occupy certain small islands lying south of Terra del Fuego and are found also on the south beach of that great island itself. The territory they occupy is a maze of mountain peaks and the conditions under which they exist are almost beyond realization by a civilized person.

The typical weapons of the Yaghuans is the rawhide sling, with which they are able to hit a water fowl at 200 yards. To hit any bird at that distance would be called right good shooting. They can knock down a pebble up to 100 yards. The reason for the sling as a tool of destruction lies in the fact that the Yaghuans live on the beach, where plenty of round pebbles are always at hand. These Islanders fry out for future use in the bladder-like leaves of a kind of seaweed found everywhere in that region.

Quite distinct and peculiar is the Ona tribe, which inhabits the prairie region in Terra del Fuego. This great island has the shape of a triangle and is almost as large as the state of New York. Once upon a time it must have had a tropical climate, inasmuch as the bones of monkeys and parrots are found fossil in great numbers.

The Onas have no horses. They eat those they capture from the sheep men, considering horse meat the greatest of delicacies. They depend for food chiefly upon the guanaco, which abounds in Terra del Fuego, and a kind of prairie squirrel. In the chase they rely mainly upon bows and arrows and bolas, the latter consisting of two or three stone balls on the end of hide thongs. On being thrown the balls diverge in obedience to centrifugal force and are used to fasten a man to his horse.

Until the object is struck when the things wind themselves about it. The Onas, however, often kill their guanaco by surrounding a bunch and running them down. So wonderfully fleet of foot are they.

MAILBOAT SEIZED.

Belief That a Spanish Mail Boat Has Been Taken Near Singapore.

London, April 23.—A dispatch from Singapore says there is reason to believe the Spanish mail boat Isla De Midan has been captured by the United States cruisers before arriving at Manila.

NEW WAR TARIFF.

Contains a Provision for a $500,000,000 War Loan.

Washington, April 23.—A $500,000,000 loan is provided in the new war tariff bill in the form of 3 per cent 10-20 bonds, and $100,000 certificates of indebtedness, to bear 3 per cent interest, are also provided for.

REACHED KEY WEST.

Key West, April 23.—The Spanish steamer Pinar was brought in here at 6:30 this morning, under her own steam, in charge of a prize crew.

DUBUQUE'S TROOPS MOVE.

Dubuque, Iowa, April 23.—The Governor's Grays have received marching orders. The greatest excitement prevails, business is practically suspended and the streets are thronged with excited people. Regulars passing through the city are given artillery salutes.

STOREKEEPER AT DULUTH.

Volney S. Wilkinson Has Been Appointed to the Place.

Washington, April 23.—(Special to The Herald).—Volney S. Wilkinson has been appointed storekeeper in the Duluth custom house at $900 per annum.

Mr. Wilkinson held the same position last year, and was laid off at the close of navigation. He has been reinstated to serve during the present season.

Brought a Drill With Them.

Frank Johnson, of St. Paul, president of the Johnson Nickel company, arrived at the St. Louis this morning, accompanied by Carl A. Anderson and F. H. Greenough. They brought a diamond drill with them and will leave on the steamer Dixon for Grand Marais tomorrow morning to do some exploration work on the company's lands.

Bought the Adjoining House.

Ever since the new St. Mary's hospital was opened it has been crowded with patients and much as it is, it is apparent that a much larger building could have been fitted. This has made room an absolute necessity and the sisters have bought the double house adjoining the hospital, 1010 Third street, from Mrs. Colla Hoff. It will be used as a dwelling place for the sisters.

First Raft Expected Tonight.

The first raft of logs to reach Duluth from the north shore will arrive about midnight tonight. It comes from the banking ground of Huron Knox, about eight miles east of Two Harbors, and contains about 500,000 feet. The logs will be saved in the Knox mill on Rice's Point.

A QUEER LIBRARY.

A Very Unique Collection of Prohibited Books.

Our Venice correspondent writes: It is an everyday occurrence to make a catalogue to fit a library, but is a very unusual one to make a library to fit a catalogue. This is what is now proposed to do in Italy, and not by a bibliophile with a rad, but by Signor Condronechi, the minister of public instruction, says the London Globe. The catalogue exists, it is a very extensive one, and it is unique. Its compilation has been the work of fourteen centuries, and it is still being added to at the present time; so it is no small task to make a catalogue of it. Signor Condronechi thinks to undertake. This catalogue was begun under Pope Julius II in 44, and is now in the Vatican library of Florence. It consists of 9000 volumes, chiefly connected by the name of Count Pietro Guicciardini, who became Count of Florence at the time of the reformation and imprisonment of the Medici, and presented by him to his native city. The municipality of Florence, after the fall of the grand duke, were anti-clerical enough to accept the gift, but not enough so to give the books public honor by placing them publicly on the shelves, so for many years they were stored away in the attic and it was quite lately that they have at last received a worthy resting place. These books are all, necessarily, in the index, and it struck Signor Ralli that it would be a most useful and instructive thing if round this nucleus could be gathered all the numbers of prohibited books which are known to be in existence in safe hiding. Many there are scattered about the world, in private libraries, in odd nooks and corners, all over the world, which would quickly come to light were it known they would find sure keeping in this novel library, which would certainly be the most curious and unique one in the world. Once formed, this library would serve to show history, the increase and determined opposition to and persecution of all advanced ideas, and the scientific and literary in original thought and scientific investigation, for no inspiration of genius, as Signor Ralli says, is intellectual or moral effort, no honest rebellion against tyranny over mind or body escaped the censor of the index, and could almost think that through all these ages, the spirit of intolerance had specially set its task of preparing for the future. It is proposed to set aside some large halls of the present national library in Florence for this object, and the present liberal chamber is expected to vote with unanimity the necessary expenses.

SPAIN'S COAST

Many Seaports That Are Well Protected and Fortified With Modern Ordnance.

HER THREE BIG NAVAL STATIONS

Extent of the Peninsula Defenses Not Appreciated In United States--Tempting Points for Attack.

Copyright, 1898, by the International Literary and News Service.

Should we carry the war into Spain? England has always done so in her struggles with the Spaniards.

The hundreds of miles of Spanish coast present a hostile fleet many inviting points of attack, and any one of a number of Spanish cities may soon be the scene of a struggle fiercer and more destructive of life and property than is yet recorded in the 1500 years of the kingdom's sanguinary history.

The strength and extent of Spain's coast defenses are not generally appreciated by Americans. Even her chief ports we know little better than by name, or perhaps from an account of their remarkable sights and hotel charges in some tourist's note-book.

But besides the fortifications and the coast cities of Spain possess millions of dollars' worth of valuable property, which would be completely exposed to the guns of a hostile fleet in the event of the defeat of the Spanish ships.

Spain has not neglected the fortification of her coast. At all exposed points and important seaports there are forts upon which work has been carried on unceasingly to keep their armament in the condition required by the advances of military science. The coast may be called strongly guarded, though, of course, as with our own coast defenses, strength can be proved only by the ordeal of war.

There are three great naval stations in Spain: Ferrol, on the north coast, above Portugal; Cadiz, below Portugal; and Cartagena, in the Mediterranean. They are of nearly equal importance. Ferrol is the strongest, and may be called the citadel of Spain. It is regarded as impregnable. The town is invisible from the sea, and its surrounding hills are strongly fortified with the most improved guns, including 12-inch and 16-inch rifles, modern mortar-batteries. The arsenal—one of the three largest in the kingdom—is back of the city, on the harbor, and with its wharves and dock yards, exceeds twenty-five acres in extent. Here are foundries, ropewalks and magazines, besides a school for engineering and marine observatory. Nature has taken unusual care in protecting the harbor, besides making it one of the best in Europe. It is deep and capacious, and has an entrance only half as wide as "the Narrows," admitting in the narrowest part but one ship at a time. This passage is a strait two miles long between high bluffs, from which it is commanded by Forts Palma and San Felipe. Torpedoes can be planted in the narrowest notice, and would make the strait impassable. Ferrol was not fortified until 1752. It successfully resisted the English in 1759, but was obliged to surrender to them in 1805, upon the defeat of the French fleet in front of it. The French captured the place in 1823, but only by means of a month's blockade.

At Cadiz the coast is the most elaborate.

BARCELONA AND DEFENSE.

ly fortified of the three naval stations, but the city itself lies directly exposed to an attack from the sea—like, for instance, our own city of Portland, Me. The main yard is five miles back from the ocean. It has all facilities for building and repairing warships. The armored cruiser Carlos V. was built at the Cadiz yard, and also the Princess de Asturias. A large factory for guns is situated here. Much of the glory of Cadiz has departed, but it must still be ranked as one of the finest cities in Spain. It is surrounded by a wall that is nearly seven miles in length, and stands on the tip of a tongue of land extending five miles into the sea from the Isla de Leon. This strip of land, with the mainland, forms two bays. The outer bay is more than thirty miles in circumference—a splendid, land-locked harbor. There are two forts, San Sebastian and Santa Catalina, on the extremity of the peninsula, between the city and the Atlantic, and Fort Montague and Pantoja Castle on either side of the entrance to the lower bay. At about the center of the isthmus a strong entrenchment extends at length to prevent a hostile landing back of the city. The bastions and ramparts around the city itself are strong and up-to-date. There are four 12-inch disappearing guns at Cadiz, besides the necessary number of smaller guns and good mortar batteries. It is true that here, as elsewhere in Spain, are many old-fashioned guns mounted that would be only in the way in modern warfare.

From land or sea, Cadiz is a study in white, for every house in the city is as large as the other portion. Like all the largest Spanish cities on the Mediterranean, Barcelona has but an artificial harbor. This is formed by a breakwater, which cuts off enough of the sea to form a basin capable of holding the largest man-of-war.

The other principal Mediterranean cities are Malaga, an Valencia. The former is the center of the wine and raisin trade. Like Cartagena, it is growing, and the handsome new town runs along the sea principally in the harbor until it surrendered, Cadiz stood a two years' siege by Marshal Victor, but was reduced by the French in 1825. Its present population is nearly 100,000.

Spain's largest docks are at Cartagena, on the Mediterranean. They are in easy reach of shells from a fleet that could withstand the fire of the land batteries. Twelve-inch guns of the most approved type on disappearing carriages are mounted here, and altogether, the defenses should be able to make it decidedly uncomfortable for an enemy. Cartagena has a fine natural harbor.

The chief seaport of all Spain, the loss or destruction of which would be a blow as terrible to the kingdom as the fall of New York city would be to the United States, is Barcelona—gray, flourishing and industrious Barcelona.

For quite seven centuries Barcelona has been the industrial and commercial center of Eastern Spain. It holds nearly as many inhabitants as Boston, and has grown so rapidly that there is a handsome new part of the town that

SIX NEW COAST DEFENSES FOR THE NAVY.

The president, it is reported, has signed the coast defense bill, which authorizes the secretary of the navy to construct six light draught armored vessels for the protection of our long coast line. They will cost $1,000,000 each. They are not built for speed, but to withstand the shock of heavy guns, so that practically these six ships will be looking forts, as they will carry heavier guns than have ever been placed upon any warship.

when Sir John Moore was killed there and buried without a funeral note. These cities are all of more or less importance. Every one is protected by 12-inch or 16-inch guns and heavy rifled mortars. The Spanish system of torpedoes is excellent—decidedly superior to our own—and mines are ready to be placed at all of the Spanish coast towns. Spain's torpedo service will put the country in a perfect condition of defense before any American ship reaches the Canary Islands. This can be depended upon.

At the same time it is true that every port of Spain, with the exception of Ferrol and probably Bilbao, can be shelled from the sea, where submarine explosives cannot be placed. Cadiz, Barcelona, Malaga, and Cartagena are especially easy of attack, and they could all be utterly destroyed from the sea in spite of their fortifications.

Spain's coast trade, while incomparably less than that of the United States, reaches the value of millions of dollars a year. Her annual wine exports are estimated at $65,000,000. About 700 Spanish ships are registered as entering the ports every year, and merchant vessels in the "made" breakwater harbors on the eastern coast would be at the mercy of a cruiser's guns. Indeed, there would be no protection from gunboats for the commerce of Eastern Spain.

To land troops on Spain's northern or western coasts, a harbor would first have to be taken, as troops could not land through the surf. The early English sailors soon discovered this fact. On the eastern coast, however, a landing might be made in many places under the cover of the guns of a fleet.

In the Balearic Islands, which belong to Spain, there is one good harbor, Mahon, fit for putting up a whole squadron.

In the "sketch," by special permission, Mahon was used as a naval station by the United States. Its capture would give a base of operations against Eastern Spain, and the Canaries would furnish a base for a descent on the western coast.

"I do—absolutely," replied the Professor deliberately, tightening the muscles of his strong face, "and I welcome your blunt frankness. I believe every word I say, and it is no blind faith, but positiveness that comes from actual knowledge. I have never introduced a medicine to the public until I was myself certain of its efficacy, and I never claim that any medicine will cure any disease except the one for which it is a specific. Even Cuba, with all its abominations, searcely affords so remarkable a picture of Spanish oppression, mis-called government, as may be seen in the Philippines. It is only the remoteness and isolation of these unhappy islands that has prevented the atrocities there perpetrated from arousing the indignation of the whole world. The purpose of this article, however, is not to detail the shocking barbarities practiced in times

natives is the almost open aim of the government—the sole end for which it is organized and maintained; so why should petty officials be scrupulous. It is the old Roman provincial system, denuded by Cæsar two thousand years ago, but in Spain unforgetten and unimproved. What other aim has the former, except as a source of revenue wrung by torture from the misery of slaves, and incidentally as a battering ground for her savage war dogs? Here the detestable Weyler is said to have accumulated a fortune of fractory are of poverty. A hungry native cannot kill his own hog or buffalo for meat without a special permit—which, of course, must be paid for. He is not allowed to press out a pint of coconut oil from the fruit of his own orchard until he has obtained a license. This, also, has its price. The orchard itself is taxed; everything is taxed in the Philippines.

The resident Chinese are further subjected to a special tax—whether for existing or for not being something else is not stated. They are not popular.

disorder. Facts of this sort are already too too familiar. I wish rather to show the utter incapacity of the present government to administer the government over an independent province even in times of social peace, and then to show how the present state of affairs with the ultimate result of a civil war, their conduct when incensed by revolt, and the extreme measures being pursued in those few who have been visited by the tyrants, partly in consequence of their being outside the ordinary lines of trust, and partly in consequence of the policy of Chinese exclusion, and the present government. The climate, too, is unhealthy. The climate is not so healthy in the tropics, and the present state of the country, swarming with a large population, and the evils of the worst description, make a experience beyond the benefits of the primitive state of the country. The islands of the worst description are included in the group, and the total area is considered to be about 1,000,000 square miles, or four times that of Cuba. Exact data, however, are difficult to obtain. There are no statistics, and the population is hardly known except upon the chaotic islands; but Luzon almost equals the island of Java, and Luzon, I believe, has a population estimated at 10,000,000. Greater than that of Havana. Altogether, the population of the islands is not less than 8,000,000 souls; so that Spanish cruelty finds plenty of raw material.

The methods employed in this legalized system of robbery are mediæval in character, but often highly ingenious. One of them is the "cedula personal," a sort of passport. Every person in the islands, over 18 years of age and accessible to the authorities, is required to take out one of these documents; even the women are not exempt. The

And most of it is raw to the last degree—a medley of diverse and hostile elements, from the puny and dying remnants of the Xingtsu, who still like wild boasts in the highlands, subsisting upon the roots which they claw out of the ground, to the fierce and warlike remnants of the Hsien, who still keep up the bloody war of creeds which raged in Spain itself for so many centuries. These latter are chiefly of Chinese origin, and many of them are now being converted to Christianity, but still to report Spanish outrages in kind. There are also Chinese in large numbers, and half-castes of all varieties, and a few Europeans, who, like the Spaniards, even in the cities. The resident Spaniards are all soldiers or officials of some sort, and are there simply for what they can make by extortion and corruption.

But, indeed, pillage of the wretched

cedula must be renewed annually, and the cost is from $1.50 to $25 according to circumstances—the chief circumstance being the victim's ability to pay. This in a country where wages sometimes fall as low as 5 cents a day! And any one who holds a cedula costing less than $3 is further required to render the government fifteen days' of unremunerated labor.

But the cedula is only one device out of many (or extracting gold from the

not to be neglected. On one such occasion, where the scene of conflagration was a quarter chiefly occupied by Chinese shops, the streets was soon thronged with an eager mob. The poor Chinamen, acting much like crazed cattle, had fled into their upper chambers and locked the doors, apparently preferring death by fire to the treatment they were likely to receive outside. But there was no escape. The "rescuers"—Spanish soldiers—quickly broke in with

Ishpeming, Mich., April 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The first cargo of ore shipped from Escanaba has already snipped from Escuduna, an already busy port. The Coalbrookdale is the only ship that calls at Escuduna, again for another load. Shipping is going on from all the forwarding ports and the season will be opened in earnest at least two weeks before the average time. This extra time of two weeks is of considerable importance to the trade, owing to the larger amount of ore to be transported this year. Vesseldowners are feeling blue, for the season has not yet opened, and all attempts to get carriers for a few weeks have been abandoned, as was predicted would be. The season is expected to open in the low, perhaps eighteen inches under normal, and this is causing trouble as the cargo is being taken from the two Harbors, Duluth, Superior, Ashland and Marquette. Escuduna and Gladstone, being on Lake Superior, are not affected by the low water seems local to the large lakes. Experienced mariners predict a rise in the water level in the next few days.

The Chicago & Northwestern Railway company has not completed the rebuilding of its burned over pier at Escanaba. It will be sixty feet in height, measuring from mean water to the floor and will have a storage capacity of 33,000 tons. By a system of counterbalances the chutes will be handled much more quickly and easily than formerly, and every article of cargo made or purchased is being incorporated in the new pier, work on which will be finished early in the season. Escanaba shipments promise to break all previous records this year and that port may crowd Duluth for first place.

The Duluth & Iron Range Railroad has been authorized to issue $250,000 of bonds, a cost of more than $250,000 and a grading cut-off on its main line which will enable the road to haul much heavier trains than formerly. The bonds will be used to step up the section of the line. The Duluth & Iron Range Railroad has authorized its No. 2, a pair of cost of fully $200,000, and is prepared to handle an average of 100,000 tons of iron ore. The Duluth, Superior & Western has some additions to its line planned, and is also planning to build a new line, or handling considerably more ore than it is now handling. The Chicago & Northwestern has expended nearly a quarter of a million in building a new line, and is also planning to build a new line, or handling considerably more ore than it is now handling. The Queen group at Neganage is still idle. Rumors are still in circulation to the effect that the mine will be reopened if a reduction could be secured in royalty, from the excessive sum of 40 per cent. The Queen group is owned by the fee owners have a grudge against the city of Neganage, and the city authorities are not inclined to help the miners. As a consequence, the mines are idle, instead of employing 500 men, as was the case last season. It is not possible to determine on any plan for the season.

The Jackson mine at Neganage is still idle, but is expected to resume work in the near future. There is some likelihood that the mine will be reopened, owned by Capt. Sam Mitchell, may be worked this season. On the Cascade range, the low-silica ore production by the Consolidated company, which owns and operates the mine, is expected to be 100,000 tons. These properties, especially the Griffin, produce a very desirable ore, containing 45 per cent iron, 1.50 to 2.00 per cent phosphorus and 1 per cent iron, with less than 1 per cent silica. The low-silica ore will be a call this season for between 500,000 and 1,000,000 tons. The low-silica ore is in great demand, should be in good demand. The main difficulty is that the owners and operators are not inclined to be so determined to do as much business as possible, regardless of whether any grade has been offered this season below $1.50 per ton, delivered at Lake Erie. The low-silica ore is in great demand, which had an old rock burrow from which could be taken, offered to sell at $1.30, but the assays were unfavorable and the ore was not taken even at that price. There are times when low grades of certain sorts can be bought remarkably cheap, as for instance, when assay was recently made by a large mine here to sell ore for 40 cents per ton, on cars at the mine. The ore offered at this figure was of low grade, and was in the way of obstructing the mine. It was figured that it would be nearly as cheap to mine k as to go around it, and although the price of 40 cents at the mine would not cover the actual costs of mining, it would be money saved if the ore could be sold at that figure.

Extensive improvements have been made in the Colby mine since last February mine. This is one of the oldest mines of the city, and within the past few years has been transformed into a producer. The new shaft house at this mine is a model, and the new machinery is also a model, and is well worthy of study.

A great many idle men are gathered at the Colby mine, and they will come here in the last few weeks thinking that the starting up of the Colby mine will give them work. They are disappointed. While there are very few unemployed miners among the number of idle men, there are a large number of men well supplied at the present time.

The future of the Colby mine, at Reservoir, second mine, is very uncertain. The owners are figuring on doing something with the property, but have not yet agreed. It is not probable that the Colby was the first mine opened on the Goeblie range, also the first iron mine. It was a big producer for several years, and then dropped out of sight entirely. It is not probable that the Colby mine, but it will cost a great amount of money to put the property in the best shape to produce. It is a considerable disadvantage in the amount of manganese in the ore, which is not a desirable quality. It is not probable that the Colby mine will make the product a truly manganese ore and too thick to please the furnaces. It is not probable that the Colby mine is apt to cause chilled spots, which interfere with the usefulness of the product. It is not probable that the Colby mine is but little troubled with manganese, though a close watch has to be kept from the Colby mine, and the chemist, at the mine.

JAPAN'S COMMERCE.

Increasing at a Rapid Rate and New Industries Starting Up.

Copyright, 1898, by the International Literary and News Service.
In a recent number of the London journal Engineering appear some interesting statements concerning industrial Japan.

Japanese public men, says Engineering, who are watching the expansion of the country's industrial base with some satisfaction, are seeing not only that it is increasing at a rapid rate but that the increase is being achieved in a way that Japan becomes an industrial country for each such country. The country is not only a material entering the country, and the manufactured articles leaving the country, forms a great advantage. The population is increasing at a rapid rate from 60,000,000 to 70,000,000 in 1940, and Japan is not by nature a country suited for agriculture, and already her population is denser than that of many of the countries of the world. Her food in the future must be sought in industrial development rather than in agriculture. The country is being earnestly put before the people by the press and the leading men in public life, and the country is being directed to hastening the process of converting Japan from a country which is a material entering the country whose chief industry will be manufactured articles leaving the country.

the country's future may be regarded with hope and confidence. The line of development of the Japanese economy is that the development of the material resources during the past twenty years has been the course which has been pursued.

Mr. Farnham states that in 1952 the value of manufactured articles exported by Japan did not amount to $50,000,000, and that in 1956 it reached $400,000,000, an increase of 800 per cent. In the earlier year the whole of the raw materials imported into Japan would have paid for the value of the manufactured goods. In 1956, 30 per cent of her total imports is chiefly in her trade with Asiatic countries, and the increasing proportion of raw material imports. Spending generally, Japan's trade with Asiatic countries is increasing, and the export of imports of raw materials and exports of manufactured articles. Mr. Farnham states that Japan is at least for a considerable time to come Japan will not be a competitor to any of the nations of the Western Hemisphere. Eastern markets, and that she will supply the semi-civilized nations of Asia, and that she will not be a competitor of the nations of the Western Hemisphere. She will not be a competitor of the nations of the Western Hemisphere. She will not be a competitor of the nations of the Western Hemisphere.

There is one woman in town whose faith in human nature has been seriously weakened. The woman was born husband, weakener. The woman was busy with her own affairs, and she did not have time to spend any other day when there was a knock at the door. The caller proved to be a large cherub of tender years with the face of an angel. That is the sort of an angel that walks at once into a woman's heart, and when, as in this case, the cherub is a little girl, she is sure to be enraptured. The child was suffused with tears, she was ready to be a mother to it right away without delay. The mother said to herself: Such a picture of woe did the little cherub paint that her own eyes filled with sympathy.

"Why, what is the matter, my child?" she asked, sitting down and taking the little face in her hand.

"I can't sell my eggs," sobbed the little one, looking desolately at her mother. "I have no more to sell than the little one he carried. 'And I've been out all day,' he complained, weaverily, 'and I can't find a place to nest home, for I have no nest.'"

When a sawy bird has been so long awaited the return of her key with the few pennies that were to keep the wolf

"Why, I will take your eggs, my child," said she, impulsively.

"Will you—thank you very much," said the little boy with brightening face, as he wiped away his tears.

"How much are they?" asked the woman.

"Fifteen cents a dozen, ma'am," said the child diffidently.

In a few moments the money had been placed in the little boy's hands, and he had gone on his way rejoicing while the woman went about her duties with a heart made glad by the memory of a good deed done. Shortly there was another rap on the door. It was the grocery boy for the daily order.

"Do you want some eggs—only 9 cents a dozen?"

"—M—M—no, I don't want any," she snapped. And the poor grocery boy, wondering how he could have offended a lady, hurried away.

An unusually forlorn-looking man rapped at the back door of a shabby residence the other day and asked for something to eat. The lady of the house, who was out, called to her husband to sit on—it was one of the warmest days—and prepared for him a substantial meal of meat, potatoes, and some coffee that happened to have been left over from breakfast, and which she had heated up.

"Thinking herself of the fact that she had a little wine spilt, the lady opened the door, handed him a glass, and as he was thanking her with many thanks, and expressing his undying gratitude, she put the wine in the wash tub and put them in the wood box. The contents of the wayfarer changed to a very different order.

"Excuse me, ma'am," he interrupted, "I don't mean to ask, but I'll be off."

"Yes," she replied, "the door is the house."

"Then," said the wayfarer, regretfully, "I am afraid I cannot comply with your request. I am sure, though I would rather you would not mention it for fear the newsmonger will get wind of it, that I am on my way to Washington in fulfillment of a solemn duty to offer my services to the government in this crisis. It behoves us, all, ma'am, to lay down the implements of toll and taxation, and to stand ready to honor may be vindicated. I could no longer, ma'am, in the pursuits of peace, devote my energies to the service of myself for the field. Ma'am, he concluded, raising his hat with courtly dignity, and bowing low.

"Why, good-bye," the housewife stammered, fairly bewildered by the stranger's words. "I am sure you are right, sir, gazing at him transfixed as he walked away and almost feeling as if she were in the midst of a civil war.

"That is, that I am never gets to Washington the chances are that he will surmount a commission or a sutenhip out of the administration."

Among those who purchased one was a wealthy citizen of the town, who was led to do so by a less wealthy neighbor, who had found them sweet smokers. The capitalist was delighted. He smoked nothing else for some time, and finally inquired of the groceryman as to where the pipes were made. The latter could only give the name of the wholesale dealer from whom he had purchased, but from him the gentleman learned that the pipes were made from a clay bank in the county of Appomattox, in Virginia.

WHEELS AND THEIR RIDERS.

The plan of the Good Roads club has appealed to the wheelmen as nothing else ever has. They are joining it and paying the small fee with surprising unanimity and without any urging. The men who have been soliciting memberships, although they were very sanguine of success have met with more than they anticipated. The club is already assured of a good fund and will thus be placed in position to accomplish a great deal.

It had been intended to call a meeting this week to gather in the lists of members who have joined the club, these lists being in the hands of a number of persons, but it may be that the meeting will not be called before next week, many matters having arisen which are engaging public attention. The larger the membership the greater will be the influence of the club and the stronger will be the demand it can make on the county board and the city council. One of the leading members said in speaking of this feature:

"This county has spent about $1,000,000 on roads for the benefit of farmers and there are not more than a few hun-

will call a meeting at which the plans of the club will be explained. Another improvement which the club will seek to have made is the betterment of the pavement between Duluth and the West End. It is in execrable condition now, so bad that few care to take the ride and yet there are some very pretty runs beyond the point of rocks.

The Good Roads club has given the following reasons why cyclists should become members, one and all:

First, it will be your most effective way of having streets and roads improved and cycle paths built.

Second, it will bring Duluth in line with other progressive communities that have been working along this line for years.

Third, you will make Duluth an attractive residence city as well as for tourists.

Fourth, your money will be spent advantageously by a committee of experienced business men.

Fifth, you are under no liability. The club is incorporated and all that will be asked of you will be the $1 dues.

Sixth, your annual dues will only be

dred in the county. Now if we can go before the board or council saying that we have 1500 or 2000 people behind us who have joined this movement all within thirty days and show a good fund to assist them in their work we are in better position to secure consideration."

The idea has gained ground that the club intends to put in a cycle path from Duluth to Two Harbors. That is not true. The club intends to secure and assist in the improvement of the road itself so it will be available for cycle use. The city will probably put the road in condition from the end of London road to Lakewood. Two Harbors people have volunteered to see that the road from the county line is put in shape. This will leave a strip of about nine miles between to be improved and it is thought this can be done for a reasonable sum.

The more members the club has the more it can secure from county. If it can show a fund of $250 that will show ability to do a certain amount of work, but if the fund is $1250 or $2500 the club will be able to do just that much more.

C. C. CHASE.

$1 or a 5-years' membership for $5, and a life membership for $10.

The Duluth Cycle club opens the season in better shape than it has ever been in before. Its membership is large and steadily growing, and its finances are in excellent shape. In addition to that its plans are for a very active season all along the line, and its great annual event, the Memorial day road race, promises to be larger than any in its history. The club elected officers for the coming year last week as follows: President, E. P. Dorrer; vice president, George Booth; second vice president, Albert Erikson; secretary, Roy Hoople; captain, J. Roth; first lieutenant, Henry Schipper; second lieutenant, H. Schmidt.

The special racing committee having in charge the Decoration day road race to be run under the auspices of the club reports that arrangements for the event are rapidly assuming definite shape. The selection of Dr. McNulty to act as referee has been announced, and gave general satisfaction. Sub-committees have been appointed as follows: Committee on prizes—Frank Burrows, Roy Hoople, E. P. Dorrer, E. F. Dorrer, E. Sater, Charles Starkey. Committee on entertainment—E. P. Blowers, Frank E. Smith, A. A. Pickett, Edward McLaughlin, J. R. Zweifel.

A committee of the club having in charge the selection of a site for a board track has opened negotiations with the owners of a piece of property on London road, near Eleventh avenue east. The property will make an excellent site, and if it is possible to make arrangements with the owner, who is figuring on building a track, it will be used. The terms offered are said to be easy, and there is little doubt that the arrangement will be completed.

The club is making every effort to bring its membership up to a record-breaking point, and as interest in cycling seems to be as lively as it ever has been, there is no difficulty in enrolling members. At the last meeting of the club J. Roth was awarded as a prize for getting the most members a handsome silver match box, donated by Dorrer & Co.

Every bright day brings a big inquiry at all of the bicycle stores for wheels. The sunshine and warm weather seem to induce into everyone a desire to ride. Anyone who imagines that the wheel craze is dying out is very much mistaken. There will be more wheels sold this year than ever before, probably twice or three times as many.

High gears are a fad among the cyclists this year and a fairly large well paid for by the rider who takes an old car wheel and has it transformed into a cycle sprocket. No hobby has been adopted by the impossible wheelmen so likely to render worthless all the possible advantages accruing from the exercise of riding a bicycle as that of putting gears from 100 to 120 on their machine.

The theory that a long crank is advantageous in reducing the exertion necessary to push a wheel geared up so high that the rider's knees hit his chin while propelling the machine is all right as far as it goes. The trouble is that it can never go far enough, for the crank should be about one yard long to compensate for the back-breaking effort of pushing a gear of 116.

Abnormal gears mean an abnormal heart before the season is over. They mean that the rider at the end of what he thought was to be a day's pleasant outing, returns home irritable, nervous, exhausted completely. The heart action is irregular, the mind tormented by a feeling of weakness and a general sensation of weakness is apparent in the limbs and vital organs.

Cyclists who have made a careful study of what is good for them and what is not good, instead of inventing their gears have reduced them. It is better that the legs should travel around with the cranks of the machine a few more times than that the constitution should be irreparably run down by making demands upon the physical organs which they are wholly unable to meet. The bicycle will bring good health to any person who uses it wisely, and just as truly it will injure the general system if its use is abused. One certain method of abuse is to employ a gear wholly out of proportion to the physical strength of the person who is trying to push it.

THE FIRST NAVAL BATTLE ACCORDING TO THE PLANS OF CAPT. SAMPSON AND THE COUNCIL OF OFFICERS ABOARD THE FLAGSHIP NEW YORK. Naval plans for the great conflict between the North Atlantic squadron and the Spanish fleet have been given to each commanding officer of the squadron. The plan is to block the coast of Cuba and to meet Spain's formidable flotilla about twenty miles to sea. The line of battle is that the battleships Iowa and Indiana and the flagship New York will form the first line and the cruisers will form the second line while the torpedo fleet will bring up the rear.

MESSAGE TO CONGRESS!

WAR NOW DECLARED

President McKinley Requests Congress to Pass a Joint Resolution Declaring a State of War Exists.

PASSED BY BOTH HOUSES

Bill Reported In Accord With President's Recommendation and Passed With a Rush Amid Loud Applause.

Washington, April 25.—The bill declaring the existence of a state of war between this country and Spain since April 21, passed the house by a unanimous vote. The announcement that the passage was achieved met with a round of applause. It took the house one hour and forty-one minutes to pass it.

The bill reads as follows: "Be it enacted, etc. First—That war be and the same is hereby declared to exist and that war be continued since the 21st day of April, A. D. 1898, including said day, between the United States of America and the Kingdom of Spain; that the president of the United States be and is hereby directed and authorized to use the entire land and naval forces of the United States, and to call into the actual service of the United States, the militia of the several states to such an extent as may be necessary to carry this act into effect."

The senate committee on foreign relations reported the war bill as passed by the house and it passed the senate.

Washington, April 25.—The president today sent across the following message recommending a declaration of war against Spain:

"I hereby transmit to the congress for its consideration and appropriate action, copies of correspondence recently received from the representative of Spain in the United States, with the United States minister at Madrid, and through the latter with the government of Spain, showing the action taken under the joint resolution approved April 20, 1898, for the recognition of the independence of the people of Cuba, and the declaration that the government of Spain renounced its authority and government over the island of Cuba, and to withdraw its land and naval forces from Cuba and Cuban waters, and directing the president of the United States to use the land and naval forces of the United States to carry these resolutions into effect."

I am communicating with the Spanish minister in Washington the demand which it became the duty of the executive to address to the government of Spain in relation to said resolution, and to inform the government of Spain that the withdrawal of the Spanish minister to the United States had terminated the diplomatic relations between the two countries, and that all communications between their respective countries ceased thereafter."

I recommend to your special attention the note addressed to the United States minister at Madrid by the Spanish minister for foreign affairs on April 21, whereby the foregoing notification was conveyed. It will be perceived therefrom that the government of Spain having cognizance of the joint resolution of congress, and in view of things which the president is thereby required to do, has responded by treating the reported demands of this government as measures of hostility, following with that instant and complete severance of relations by its action which, by the usage of nations, accompanies an existent state of war between sovereign powers.

The position of Spain being thus made known and the demand of the United States being denied, with a complete rupture of intercourse by the action of Spain, I have been constrained, in exercise of the power and authority conferred upon me by the joint resolution aforesaid, to proclaim, under date of April 22, 1898, a blockade of certain ports of the north coast of Cuba lying between Cardenas and Bahia Honda, and of the port of Cienfuegos on the south coast of Cuba, and further, in exercise of my constitutional powers, and using the authority conferred upon me by the act of congress approved April 22, 1898, to issue my proclamation dated April 23, 1898, calling for volunteers in order to carry into effect the said resolution of April 20, 1898. Copies of these proclamations are hereto appended.

In view of the measures so taken, and with a view to the adoption of such other measures as may be necessary to enable me to carry out the expressed will of the congress of the United States, the members, I now recommend to your honorable body the adoption of a joint resolution declaring that a state of war exists between the United States of America and the Kingdom of Spain, and I urge speedy action thereon, to the end that the definition of the international status of the United States as a belligerent power may be made known, and the assertion of all its rights and the maintenance of all its duties in the conduct of a public war may be assured.

WILLIAM MCKINLEY, Executive Mansion, Washington, April 25, 1898.

DEATH AT LA PRAIRIE. La Prairie, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Miss Angie Smith, of this place, well and favorably known in Duluth, died Saturday night at 8:30 o'clock. She has been in active business at La Prairie for eight years as a milliner. She was the sister of the Smith brothers, of Verdala, large merchants of that place.

CHICAGO'S OUTPOST. Patriotism Breaks Out at the Waterworks Cribbs on Lake Michigan.

Chicago, April 25.—The newest and most unique place for Chicago patriotism, to break forth is out three miles in Lake Michigan at the intermediate crib, the lake end of the new northwest water supply tunnel. The workmen there have raised "Old Glory" in a manner worthy of the location, which is one of the city's most advanced outposts. The flag was hoisted at 10 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, while the torpedo boat was taking soundings in the harbor of Matanzas. She was within 200 or 300 yards of the shore. Suddenly a Spanish masked battery, on the east side of the harbor and not very far distant from the boat, fired three shots at the torpedo boat. They were returned to the Cincinnati, where she reported the result of her soundings and then announced she had been fired upon. The Cincinnati immediately returned to steam in instantly and reduced the Spanish batteries, but was not permitted to do so.

No captures are reported by the fleet off Matanzas. It is alleged that two Spanish gunboats were seen in shore, but the report could not be verified.

CALL FOR VOLUNTEERS. Secretary Alger Will Send Out the Demand Upon States.

Washington, April 25.—The war department and Secretary Alger will sign notices to the governors of the several states, in accordance with the president's call for 125,000 volunteers. Identical telegrams will be sent to each governor, save there will be, of course, differences as to details, each state's quota of troops being named, together with the points of assembly.

REGIMENT OF COWBOYS. Teddy Roosevelt Will Receive a Congenial Commission.

Washington, April 25.—The president has decided to appoint Theodore Roosevelt, of New York, at present assistant secretary of the navy, to be a lieutenant colonel of the United States volunteers, to serve in a regiment of cowboys and mounted riflemen to be raised by Mr. Roosevelt and Dr. Wood, the president's family physician, who is now in the medical department of the regular army. Dr. Wood will be colonel of the regiment.

WAR REVENUE TARIFF. Bill Will Not Be Reported to the House Today.

Washington, April 25.—The war revenue tariff bill will not be reported to the house today. At the meeting of the committee this morning the Republicans formally presented it for consideration, and the Democrats protested against its passage. The Democrats also asked for an option for amendments in committee. After some discussion it was decided that the bill should go over for today. The bill will be reported to the house tomorrow.

BURKE'S BAD BREAK. Catholic Bishop at St. Joseph, Missouri, Is Sensational.

St. Joseph, Mo., April 22.—Bishop Burke has created a mild sensation in Catholic circles here by declaring the war between the United States and Spain unnecessary, and that it will be a calamity to this government and forever a blot on our nation's honor. "The difficulties between the two governments could have been settled by mediation," Bishop Burke said in a sermon at St. Joseph's cathedral, "and there would have been no war if the pope had been heard."

The bishop said President McKinley is a high tribute for his efforts to maintain peace, and said the United States senate went mad. He said Catholics would shed blood in this war as they had in all others. He did not advise them to stay out of it, but told them it was their duty to fight for their country. Bishop Burke believed the war with Spain will lead to international complications that may involve the United States in war with Spain and France. Many of the Catholics severely criticized the remarks of the bishop, and many left the church during the sermon.

SHERMAN RESIGNS

Venerable Secretary of State Sends In His Resignation Today.

HIS LONG CAREER

Forty Years in Official Life in Various Positions—Cabinet Meeting.

Washington, April 25.—Another resignation from the cabinet occurred today, when the venerable secretary of state, John Sherman, handed his resignation to the president. The resignation is to take effect at as early a day as may be convenient to the president. With it Mr. Sherman retires to private life after a service of forty years, embracing the house of representatives, the senate, the secretaryship of the treasury and the secretaryship of state. The reason for the resignation is the condition of the secretary's health, which is now impaired as the result of years of devotion to the public service and the arduous labors of a lifetime, added to age. The venerable secretary now being within a few days of 75 years of age.

The secretary's resignation was tendered in a simple note tendering to the president the portfolio entrusted to him upon the inauguration of President McKinley and asking that it take effect from the close of today.

The resignation was seen by an Associated Press representative before he went to the cabinet meeting, but he declined to make any statement beyond saying to the representative that he was carrying with him his resignation, and that he might have something to say later.

While no definite announcement can be made at this time as to who will succeed Mr. Sherman, it is altogether likely that the next secretary will be Mr. Day, the present assistant secretary of state. Mr. Day has been urged to take the office by the president, but is personally inclined to return to Canton to the practice of law there, though it is believed here that he will yield to the president's wishes in the matter.

Mr. Day has been out of the city and is thought to be in Canton, arranging his personal affairs. He has had entire charge of the Cuban affairs almost since the beginning of the present administration.

The cabinet meeting at which Mr. Sherman's resignation was tendered was called early this morning for the purpose of reviewing the message the president would transmit to congress today, recommending that congress, in the exercise of the powers vested in it by the constitution, formally declare war against the Kingdom of Spain.

DAY TO SUCCEED SHERMAN. But Does Not Say So in a Brief Interview.

Canton, Ohio, April 25.—Judge Day, accompanied by his son Luther, reached Canton via the Pennsylvania road at 10:30 this morning. He looked as if in good health. As he stepped from the train the Associated Press correspondent informed him of the resignation of Secretary Sherman.

When asked if he would accept the vacant place he replied simply: "I will take the matter under consideration."

While Judge Day declined to talk for publication, the Associated Press correspondent believes it can be announced as a fact that under existing circumstances Judge Day will accept the secretaryship if the president nominates him and the senate takes favorable action.

It is known here that Judge Day made a great business sacrifice when he accepted the place of assistant secretary. He has not felt that he could afford to take a cabinet portfolio, but under present circumstances, however, it is not believed he feels he ought to decline.

AT THE WHITE HOUSE. President McKinley Is Bearing Up Well Under Strain.

Washington, April 25.—President McKinley was up early this morning and had a hearty breakfast. His two guests, Victor C. Hayes, the son of ex-President Hayes, and Gen. Hastings, who held the colonelcy of the regiment in which Mr. McKinley served in the civil war, were together and talked freely of the situation. While appreciative of the fullest significance of the existence of war, the president does not give an unusual outward indication of his feelings and talks with marked calmness and cheerfulness and bears up remarkably well against the physical strain to which he is subjected.

For the first time in three weeks the public receptions will be resumed at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

ENGLAND HAS HEARD IT. Notified of United States Blockade of Cuban Ports.

London, April 25.—The British foreign office today was officially notified of the proclamation of the United States in regard to neutral vessels and neutral goods and the blockade of the island of Cuba by the United States fleet.

With reference to Spain's declaration on the subject of privateering issued from Madrid yesterday the British officials point out that the resolutions announced by the United States on the subject were taken without reference to any policy which Spain might adopt. Therefore it is not expected that Spain's intention will affect the decisions promulgated by the United States.

WISE OLD CROWS. Solved the Claim-Opening Problem and Administered Justice.

Few pastimes are more interesting and instructive to a person living in the country than observation of the habits and peculiarities of the common birds and animals which he sees. You may read the observations of others with a great deal of pleasure, but there is a singular fascination in becoming a discoverer on your own account, says the Youth's Companion.

Of all the birds that I have watched I think none has repaid me more richly than that amusing old reprobate, the crow. His sagacity is notorious, and from some things that I have myself observed it would almost seem as if he must be endowed with something nearly akin to reason.

On one occasion, while I was living in New Jersey, near Long Branch, I was one day attracted by the loud and excited cawing of a number of crows down the shore of the Navesink river, which ran only a few yards from my door. Curious to know what all the excitement was about, I seated myself at a window to watch them. It was just after the equinoctial storm in September, and I soon found that they were disputing about the best way to deal with some soft-shelled clams which had been washed up from a sandy shoal.

These clams, of which crows are very fond, are oblong in shape, about four or five inches long and two wide, with a shell not much thicker than a mussel, but still too hard for a crow to break with its beak. From one end of the shell protrudes a long neck, something more than half as long as your finger, through which the clam sucks its food. For half an hour or more the crows argued noisily; then the dispute subsided, and it was evident that they had arrived at some decision which they were about to put to the test. Almost immediately one crow, which had been particularly noisy in the discussion, picked up a clam by its long neck, and, holding up in the air some distance, let it drop. When it struck on the stony shore all the crows, about fifteen or twenty in number, flew to learn the result of the experiment.

That it proved the soundness of their reasoning was evident, for each crow, as once possessed himself of a clam, flew up into the air with it, let it drop on the stony shore some distance, and then ate its contents with great apparent satisfaction. They continued until they had eaten as many as they wanted, and then they flew away.

At another time I saw something which convinced me that they have some sort of government among themselves, and that an infringement of their laws is followed by punishment. This happened in Virginia, which, by the way, is a perfect paradise for crows, with its immense corn and peach fields. I was sitting at an upper window one quiet Sunday afternoon, looking across a broad field toward the James river, there about seven miles wide. The field had been newly plowed and harrowed, ready for planting, and was perfectly level and smooth, so that any object could be distinctly seen upon the ground at a distance of 200 or 300 yards. As I was looking I saw a crow alight on the ground about 200 yards away. Soon two more came from the same direction and alighted near the first one. Crows continued to arrive, sometimes singly and sometimes by twos or threes, until there must have been about fifty, or perhaps more. All came from the same direction and took ground on a space perhaps fifty or sixty feet square. They were very quiet, which is unusual where many of them are together, and it was evident that they had met for a purpose. Presently one flew up in the air some little distance, appeared to be looking for something, and then returned. This was repeated several times at short intervals, before three crows appeared, flying very low, at the sight of which the assembled crows manifested considerable excitement, though they made very little noise. The three were flying in a line, one above the other, the middle one, a dejected-looking bird, was unmistakably guarded by the others. They alighted a few yards from the others, and the prisoner, for such he evidently was, sat with drooping wings and head, and still guarded.

Then began a great noise. Each crow seemed to be trying to outtalk every other. This continued for about ten minutes. I should think, when, with one accord, they pitched on the unfortunate prisoner and pecked him to death, after which they dispersed as quietly as they had come.

I afterward went out, viewed the remains and wasted considerable time in vain speculation as to the offense which the unfortunate bird could have committed against the laws of crowdom, and what would have been the result if the jury had disagreed.

FORTUNE FROM HIS SIO. Gambling Winnings Invested in the Klondike Gold Fields.

John F. Ellis, a carpenter of Spokane, Wash., is likely to be in possession of a fortune as the result of a stake given to Henry Allen, a prospector at Juneau, last summer, says the New York World.

Ellis met Allen at Juneau last August. Allen had just come out of the Klondike, having failed to discover anything. The two men entered a gambling house, where Allen soon lost his last dollar. He asked Ellis for a loan. Ellis said:

"I will give you $10 if you will agree to take the mine for $50 and go back to the Klondike."

"I'll do it," said Allen. "If I win out, I'll give you anything now there I will divide."

Ellis treated the matter as a joke, but he gave a $10 note to Allen and took a walk around the block. When he returned Allen had $500 in chips, which he had won on three deals. The chips were cashed and Allen went over the Deyo trail.

A week ago Ellis received a letter which reads in part:

"Old man, the $50 note which you staked me has made a fortune for us. I got over the trail in October after a hard trip, in which I was laid up with pneumonia at Sheep Camp, and would not have pulled through but for a doctor who happened to come along in a party. I struck out for Stewart river after finding the situation poor at Dawson for prospectors."

I have struck a new and very rich gold region. Two Indians who were with me told of a place where gold had been taken and I found it. Curiously, it is farther back from the river than any bench claim I ever saw. I took out twenty-four nuggets of gold in a hole six feet square and I calculated the value at $4000. It looked as if the gold had been cached, for within a mile I found six other holes in which nuggets were heaped in bunches. These Indians, who would rather have a pouch of tobacco than a gold mine, have told me of other places, which I will explore. You are in with me in everything, and I will look for you at Circle City in July."

Ellis expects to be in Circle City to meet Allen. He will carry a big outfit of provisions and a party of a dozen friends.
